DRIVING IN NEW ZEALAND

To drive in New Zealand, you must be at least 16 years old and have a valid drivers licence. If you have a valid and current overseas driving licence, you can drive using this permit for a maximum of 12 months from the date of your arrival in New Zealand. However, if your licence is not in English, you must carry an accurate translation or an international driving permit. If you will be in New Zealand for more than a year, you need to gain a New Zealand drivers licence. If your overseas driving licence is still current or expired less than 12 months ago you can apply to convert it to a New Zealand licence. Depending on the country you come from, you may have to pass theory and practical tests.

If you do not have an overseas driving licence, you must apply for a New Zealand licence in three stages:
