If you have any comments to make about the restrictions and eligibility of the resident exemption permits, please share them here.
I support this scheme as our small street did not qualify for the residents parking scheme. The long term parking of hospital workers meant we could not have visitors here, coming by car, unless they arrived after 1800H. As my mobility deteriorated, I have felt trapped in my home and any appointments were made late in the day so chances of getting a nearby carpark on the return home, were increased. The priority plan for coupon parking is greatly appreciated as folk will be able to remain in their own homes.

The mix of P120 (resident permit exempt) parking spaces and unrestricted parking spaces.	Strongly support
The boundaries of the scheme and zones as shown on the map.	Strongly support
If you have any comments about the locations of the P120 (resident permit exempt) parking or the scheme and zone boundaries, please provide them here.
There will also be some unzoned/temporary parking available for times when homes have visitors for longer than 2 H is a good compromise.

1. We have a handicap sister who lives at 59 Rintoul St, and gets picked up and dropped off everyday by Miss Daisy taxi people. How will they pick her up in the future as they need to up her up outside the house ? she can't walk or cross the street. She has lived at this address for 42 years. We need parking outside the house otherwise they will NOT pick her up. 2. We have lived on Rintoul St for over 42 years. Over this time parking has never been an issue. Why change now. ? It is not required. 3. How come the residents on the affected streets were NOT consulted to prior to any details plans been drawn up ? I would have thought someone would have come door knocking, informing long standing residents of these significant changes ? 4. You need to get a pulse from the residents in the affected streets and NOT from people who live in the Wellington catchup. This is just short sightedness. It is the people in the affected areas who support the local shops, put significant investment into their properties and support local, rather than those who live outside of the affected streets. 5. We get significant number of family visitors (it's part of our culture - where we look after elders and family connections count). For this reason we need parking outside our house. Why has cultural and ethnic reasoning not been factored into these developments ?.

This is nothing more than an extortion of residents of the Newtown and Berhampore suburbs, parking shortages would not be an issue if the council didn't keep needlessly removing parks.

The mix of P120 (resident permit exempt) parking spaces and unrestricted parking spaces.	Strongly oppose

Forcing parking permits on Newtown and Berhampore residents is an unnecessary and unjustified cost burden during a widely acknowledged cost-of-living crisis in this country. If the cost of parking permits is to cover the 'operating costs' of the parking restrictions, then it would be best to just not change the parking zones at all.

I'd argue that in such a dense suburb more should be done to discouraging on street parking, and repurpose that space to safe separated cycleways instead. There will never be enough parking for cars on the street anyway, so why not just use it for better transport purposes.

This is really going to hurt people who live in Berhampore there is no parking at the hospital so it means they will now park further back into the suburbs. the whole scheme is super controlling its just a way of making money. It will make home owners pay for parks and trying to force people to use public transport thats all ready really bad and unreliable.

I feel this is a way to control people, and to gather revenue. I think its mean to take away carparks and to charge home owners to park outside their own home is rule especially when they don't have a driveway and parking outside there home on the road is the only option. That will force them to use a public transport system like the bus that is currently really bad its not reliable and they are all ready over crowded. I use the bus sometimes and struggle to get on them because they are already over crowded before my stop. It doesn't have the infrastructure for additional people to use it.

We can see our quiet little street that is all ready struggle with limited carparks for people who live in the street is going to become a dumping ground for peoples extra cars and we wont be able to use our cars because we anticipate the park will be lost we all ready have camper vans parked in our street who's owners live in other streets

I am all for encouraging biking, walking and public transport where optimal. However, I think there should also be an exemption for commuting staff who work at Wellington hospital (even with a co-payment similar to day rates within the hospital would be acceptable) . The hospital would not be able to function without it's commuter population. From personal experience, commuting via train and bus would usually take at least 2 hours each direction, by car can be as short as 1 hour - 1 hour 15. Hospital parking is limited to commuters and other people for whom close parking is essential - however, I believe even the commuters may not always get a permit. Therefore, I think parking in and around Wellington hospital is essential to the ongoing functioning of the hospital services. Newtown and Berhampore folk also need access to the hospital, so this would seem critical for them. As it is, we have high levels of vacancies so as they start to fill, parking with close proximity to the hospital will be necessary. Health workforce's are already almost squeezed to the limit of their resilience, this will just be another blow and likely add to the movement to work off shore that many of our health workforce are also considering. Many of the health workforce can't afford to buy property in Wellington, hence the high element of a commuting work force.

This parking scheme will make it very difficult for hospital workers who park in or around Newtown. Recently hospital staff car parking charges have increased significantly. Additionally the staff car parks already get full and it can be difficult to find a space. Buses from the Northern suburbs are unreliable and I would need to catch a bus at 6.30am to catch a direct bus to the hospital to start work at 8am - all other buses require a change in the city and this always makes me late. For hospital workers who drop off and pick up children before/after work this is unrealistic. From a patient perspective the 120min parks will not be long enough. Patients appointments regularly run over time and patients leaving to move cars disrupts appointments - this will disadvantage patients with disabilities or elderly patients who are unable to access public transport.

The proposal is not solving the right problem and the solutions proposed is not workable. WCC should build a car parking building in Newtown that is at least the size of the airport car parking building. A suitable site could be at Wellington hospital (space opposite Newtown school). This can be partially funded by Wellington rate payers and user charge. It can be done in a way so unfunded part by rate payers is recoverable over 10 years or so.

Scrap the P120 proposal altogether. Many of our health workers park in resident areas. The P120 will just mean nurses and health works from the hospital will pop out every two hours to swap parking spaces. This will affect hospital work, patients and effectively won't solve anything.

A limit on 2 passes per household could be too restrictive given that people work and travel in all sorts of areas now and public transport is not good enough. A lot of students and mixed flats in the area as well so 2 vehicles would not be standard necessarily.

P120 is great for the community but will be very limiting for people needing to park for work. Again public transport is not good enough and does not run early enough to support many people working in the area who need parking - particularly if they also cannot access parking at/near their workplaces. A bigger solution is needed here to address issues for workers and for residents.

I, along with a large number of other people who park in Berhampore and Newtown, work long hours, including on call, at Wellington Hospital. There is insufficient parking for staff (and visitors) at Wellington Hospital already. I already ride my bike instead of driving to work, whenever I can, but there are times (especially when on call) when I must drive. Other options are not really viable. There has been no provision made for people in my situation. This should be addressed. If this is not felt to be a council responsibility, some discussion needs to happen with the hospital to provide greater parking for on-call staff.

Currently the parking options for hospital staff are inadequate. As it stands I have to arrive at work almost an hour early to be able to find a park, as do most of my colleagues. This proposal would drastically reduce the parking options. With shift work, from my house in Wilton there ks currently no public transport option to arrive on time for a morning shift (journey planner tells me to leave the night before). And even with better public transport it is unsafe and unrealistic to expect people to take public transport at 11pm at night.

It is quite dangerous for people, especially the elderly, getting on the bus having to cross over bike lanes. Likewise, turning left from Riddiford Street into Hospital Road across a bike lane is not safe.

There are almost no parks in Newtown near the pharmacies. Many patients need to go to collect medicines and cannot walk far (if at all). There is no provision for these patients at all.

I think you will be making it extremely hard for those who are working around the area. I know for staff working in the hospital our parking is extremely expensive and very restricted, a lot of the staff rely on trying to park on the street and for those who live far away this is going to make it extremely difficult. It also gets darker earlier so if any staff working around this area have to park further away this will make it more dangerous. I do agree that maybe there should be a few more restrictions around the area but making it harder for essential staff to park is going to have a huge impact

These changes will lead me to not go to the Berhampore shops. I will get in my car and drive to Kilbirnie or Miramar where I can find a park. Berhampore shops already struggle, largely to the already very constrained parking. These changes will be the final nail in the coffin for many businesses, local residence will be left in the position of having to go to Newtown or Island Bay for a bottle of milk and loaf of bread. Many of them won't be walking, and a 30 min bus ride is prohibitive. Berhampore has much high density and low-income housing and the changes you propose will decrease the appeal of the suburb as a place to live. I and many other (including kids, the next generation we could be introducing to cycling) won't be using the cycle lane, it is on the busiest streets in the area and is too dangerous. Move the cycle lane off the major streets so it is SAFE. Build a really cool cycle way in the green belt and streets running parallel to the major busy streets. Dont make cyclists and busses share the same narrow road. Cyclists slow the buses down too.

Mentioned in a previous post. If this is an attempt to get more income for the council through permits i find it most distasteful that theWCC would be doing this in one of the citys poorest suburbs. As someone who work in budgeting and advocacy while the permits may not seem expensive for those living are the margins with little to no extra in the weekly budget it can push osme into hardship.

Residents permits will impact many of the Wellington's poorest residents. I am opposed to what the WCC is doing in principle in favoring special interest groups, negatively impacting businesses and organisations who work in the targeted areas. As a senior I find the entire city wise concept of parking restrictions, cycle lanes etc prejudicial making it very difficult to get around conveniently and making Wellington an unattractive option to retire in. Some of the rationale for implementing these changes is the the bus system is a great option -- it isn't. One of my colleagues may well need to quit if these changes are implemented as it costs her $16 a day to come to work by public transport (Too expensive) and time consuming. As a senior the buses don't work for me as they aren't convenient or reliable.

Every residence that does not have off road parking should be able to get a parking permit and be able to park in their street, preferable close to their residence. This is particularly the case for elderly and impaired residents. In a short street where a number of residences have 3 or more vehicles, it can be difficult for elderly or infirm residents who end up having to park some distance away, especially when they need to carry heavy objects from their vehicle to their residence, e.g groceries or several bags of garden fertiliser.

We already have parking restrictions at the front of the Zoo for some parks and also at the northern end of Newtown Park behind Roy St. The following is the parking preferences for the plan going forward from Wellington Zoo,Â’s perspective: ,Ã¸ Manchester Street to remain restriction free ,Ã¸ Residential streets eg Roy St would be great if it was P240 with Residents exempt. If this could be Monday to Friday and we could have weekends exempt from any restrictions that would be even better. School holidays will cause us some problems but we can manage if we have Manchester Street and the southern end of Newtown Park (Russell Terrace entrance) restriction free. If any discussions happen regarding the Russell Terrace parking at the southern end of Newtown Park we need to be included as our staff park there and it is an overflow parking area on weekends/school holidays for our visitors. We have considered all this in light of the fact that Councillors expect us to grow visitation. We do want as many visitors as possible to use Sustainable Transport but for many this will be unsatisfactory given bus times and personal needs.

it's not broken so don't try to fix it, apart from Newtown fair, zoo, and Newtown Park events the current parking scheme works fine, the hospital needs a car parking building, and its wrong to charge residents to park in the area.

we own a 4-bedroom house that we already has difficulty parking in our street, this proposal makes our life more difficult, getting rid of our local bus stop is a slap in the face, I now will need to change my driving route home due to turning restrictions at luxford st, it will push hospital parkers to our area if allowedv to happen.

It's not clear why only some of the parking within the boundaries would be subject to this regime and others not? It seems it would be more effective the more off street parking is included in the scheme.

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

I was prompted to do this because a deranged person turned up on our doorsteps ranting about how „ÚtHe CoUnCiL!!!!,Äù Was taking away our precious car parks and then said we don,Äôt count cos we rent. We [redacted] do count Karen, we live here and I,Äôll be [redacted] damned if your nimby [redacted] overrepresents itself as the voice of residents. This is a good system that invests in what we need (better transport infrastructure), and we say this as a family who need and use a car and have no offstreet parking.

Do you own or use a car/van/ute, and park it, in the Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme area?

Yes

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

Very likely

Why did you select that answer?

We live in the area and have a car that we use for larger trips or errands. Having an exception pass would be helpful.

I think the system proposed looks like a really good system that balances all parties. We live at the Russified end of Rintoul, and have small kids and need a car for work. We can usually find a park and are not too concerned. Having resident passes would mean we will always be able to find a park. This is good.

(Repeated comment from earlier): please increase the number of carshare parks in the zones - I used to be a regular carshare user, but it is not a viable option in Newtown due to the lack of carshare parks and so lack of share cars. I've asked my provider if more cars could be provided, and they said to ask Council for more parks. Reliable carshare (i.e. Can mostly count on there being an available car to book with a day's notice) means people don't feel they need a second car, or even a first car, and an Australian study estimated each share car replaces 11 private cars (Goget). This would help reduce the carparks needed overall. The parks could be dotted around the neighbourhood, not just in one spot, making them convenient for more people. Thanks!

This is the main reason I'm responding to this part of the survey. I live in Kelburn. I've also visited Toronto, which has a similar system to what is proposed here. We don't own a car. Sometimes we rent a car. In principle, 50 day passes would be more than enough. The definition of "household" is a bit tricky, because we rent our place but share the address with our landlord, and we really would like to have our own 50 day passes. There is also a curb cut which leads to a garage which we don't have access to. So having only 25 passes that we'd have to share would be quite inconvenient. The other part of it is that we want to encourage people to own fewer cars, and so it has to be possible to park their rental cars somewhere. The implementation of the parking permits could make that hard: how much ahead of time do we have to have the registration of the rental car? We wouldn't get that before actually picking up the car.

Lets encourage public transport. The less parking available the more people will use public transport. I strongly support LESS PARKING ON THE STREET! Car parks on the street use very valuable street space that buses and bicycles could be using

I wouldn't want to see this scheme going ahead without adequate off-street parking being provided at Wellington Hospital. This would likely require a multi-level parking building. Parking in the building should be free at low or no cost to verified patients and hospital visitors.

Speaking selfishly, I am concerned that increased pressure on parking will result more people people ,Äöover-parking,Äö my drop-kerb into my off-street parking space (279 Mansfield Street, the drop kerb actually on Hopper Street). Megan McDonald encouraged me to suggest when the lines are drawn up for the P120 zones in Hopper Street that there are a couple of broken yellow lines added to my driveway. Less selfishly, I am very concerned about hospital patients and staff coming from areas that are not well served by public transport. Such staff will still need parking for the length of their shift, and wait times for patients frequently exceed two hours. Some will be able to work around the new arrangements, but others will not.

Strongly oppose

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

You are going to further kill the local economy and upset the day to day habits of most people in the area by doing what you propose. Leave it as it is.

Do you own or use a car/van/ute, and park it, in the Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme area?

Yes

If you park in the parking scheme area, what parking do you have access to and/or use most of the time?

What is your main relationship to the Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme area?

Berhampore zone

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

Undecided

Why did you select that answer?

I need to park in a place other than my car park when periodic maintenance is done around my building. So I might need one, but usually would not. Want more information to decide. Hope the council does not charge for this. Rates are TOO HIGH already.

I strongly oppose the whole direct you are taking this. Fix the potholes. Fix the water leaks. Stop stuffing around with the parking. Stop with the bike lanes. Leave it alone.

as a nurse who uses street parking in newtown, I need to be able to find a park in a timely manner. I have already had so much more trouble in the last 10 years with parking as a lot of street parks have now become resident only. Too loose more parks will make things a lot more expensive for me as I will have to pay as so street options available. I live 30 minutes drive from work and public transport is not an option

In terms of prioritisation of permits I understand the rationale for prioritising EVs because of needing to reduce emissions etc. However, owning an EV is out of reach for some people in the neighbourhood so I feel this is disadvantaging people unfairly and would not want this to add another barrier to people who may already be at a relative level of disadvantage compared to others in the neighbourhood.

I think the proposal goes too far for where restricted and permitted parking is proposed. Particularly for the Berhampore area.

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Don't know

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

I would like to see far fewer public carparks in Berhampore and Newtown. Island Bay, Berhampore and Newtown have one of the best public transport lines in NZ and yet we still have tens of thousands of cars making a very short trip through Newtown and Berhampore to the CBD each day. We need to remove the subsidy that we provide to cars in the form of free or cheap public parking on road space. Instead, we should prioritise the use of that public space for improving our health, climate and community wellbeing. Car parks obscure visibility for cyclists, pedestrians and car drivers. They use up valuable land space and they make travelling more dangerous.

Awesome proposal. Prioritising parking for short-term visitors and residents, rather than people using Newtown as a parking area on their commute is a big step towards making Te Whanganui a Tara a more climate friendly city. I love this!

WCC is screwing over more residents and visitors to the area. No everyone rides bikes and catch unreliable transport options. Some homes have more than two cars... and what about flatting situations? I work in Newtown and do shopping and go to cafes etc.. if parking is not readily available I will be going elsewhere.

The answers provided above are really for „best case,“ if the parking scheme comes into affect regardless. I oppose the idea of paying for parking in general as the free parking options on the side of the road has always worked well for me. One of the best things about Wellington as opposed to big cities has been the ability to park freely.

Being a hospital worker who lives a considerable distance away, these proposed changes will significantly impact available parking close to work. Female shift workers are specially vulnerable. They are being made to park further and walk in the dark after their shift. Their safety does not seem to have been considered in this proposal. There has already been cases of staff being accosted on the streets currently and enforcing these changes will increase that. These changes are promising but an alternative parking option, i.e. a central parking structure, needs to be made available BEFORE these changes are put in place.

Those who work in Newtown rely heavily on these central Newtown streets to park. Limiting that to P120 will force them to park further or look elsewhere. Business owners will also be forced to take their business elsewhere.

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

The parking scheme's proposed timings do not seem to fit with the dynamic of most of the neighborhoods it would impact. It would make more sense if the p120 restrictions were only in place on weekdays and they ended at 6pm, this is when the pressure for parking in the area exists and would then leave residents and their visitor's to more effectively use the area.

With the changes of less parking and restrictions on the parking that remains it will become much harder to find parking in the area, even on a short term basis.

The restrictions should not apply at the weekend and come to an end at 6pm or so in the evenings, this proposal shows a lack of understanding about the dynamics in the area. There are a number of houses and flat share situations where the need for onstreet parking is real. The priority for EV owners is also misplaced, they should not get priority over the general population.

The boundaries are far too wide and take into account a number of areas that do not need restrictions. the 'Berhampore' zone should be much smaller and restricted to the shops. The Newtown West zone should be much smaller and focused around the hospital and the lower end of Rintoul St where it meets Riddiford.

While I support the policy behind the overall scheme I am concerned about the impact on hospital staff & patients being unable to find parking (especially shift workers for whom public transport may not be available) and that the scheme will just create parking congestion outside the zone, until Te Whatu Ora provides sufficient staff and public parking on hospital grounds. The former Tip Top land adjacent to Countdown could be used for parking in the interim.

I cannot stress this enough. Please consider hospital staff and do not put this proposal through. Our public transport is not good enough for staff to catch buses etc to work when many are cancelled everyday and staff are finishing at late hours of the night and live far from the hospital. It is also unsafe to walk to work in these hours. With a shortage of medical staff already, this will make it much worse which will impact the healthcare delivery of Wellingtonians. I hope that you really consider wellington hospital staff and that this proposal does NOT go through

I work in wellington hospital as a nurse. It is already exceptionally hard to get a park and with this proposal it will be near impossible. It is dangerous to walk to work as I work at night and early morning and have had experiences that are unsafe at these hours. There is already a nursing shortage and this will make it worse as people will struggle to get to work. It will mean nurses and drs will park in patient parks causing patients to miss out and potentially miss vital appointments. This proposal is going to ruin the Newtown area. I really hope you consider hospital staff and just how difficult this is going to make life for us.

A large amount of this area is currently relied on by hospital staff to park for vital work. Making transport to work more difficult will put staff off working in the hospital which desperately needs its staff. The council needs to work with the hospital to provide better parking/transport options to staff before making the proposed changes.

Shift workers, and hospital staff are a unique group, where it is very difficult to predict finishing times etc. Safety of staff walking to cars early/late needs to be strongly considered. There is very limited parking at the hospital, and this will make things significantly worse

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Strongly support

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

I'm supportive of these changes even though they may have a negative impact on my ability to park our car at our place as it's necessary to support low carbon transport options! It's a little unclear the impact that the mix of unrestricted and restricted parking will have and if it is the right split. I'm happy with trialling the suggested mix, but would support some sort of review at some point for residents to feed into.

Do you own or use a car/van/ute, and park it, in the Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme area?

Yes

If you park in the parking scheme area, what parking do you have access to and/or use most of the time?

On the street (unrestricted)

What is your main relationship to the Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme area?

I live in the area

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, which zone of Newtown or Berhampore is it in?

Berhampore zone

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

Undecided

Why did you select that answer?

Our street is unrestricted in the new plan however I imagine it will be much harder to find a park with the new plan. We may get a resident parking as I imagine it would ensure we can always find a park. We may also sell the car.

If you live in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for one or more visitor day passes if the scheme is introduced?

Very likely

If you live in the area, how many vehicles are owned by people in your home?

One

Thinking about where you park, do you think the new scheme will have an impact on your ability to find a car park in Newtown?

I drive from the Northern suburbs every day to work in Newtown. I can't take public transport as this is not good enough in our city to make this a credible alternative. I am a critical worker, yet you are going to make it almost impossible for me to get to my job and provide an essential service because I will not be able to park. It's often really difficult to find a park in Newtown. I used to live on Trevor Terrace and it was an impossible mission to get a park around there. It caused good neighbors to turn on each other. I think restricting people who don't actually live there is a good idea. It's not like the situation can get much worse.

If parking on Hanson and Hall streets where made (120hr) unless Authorized Residence there need to be a discount offered to all living on the street and not outside the proximity of these streets. Too many Hospital employees are using Hanson and Hall during the week because space are Free parking. Not enough Parking readily available for Hospital workers near and/or around the hospital itself.

Hansons and Hall Streets should be made Residential Only! Too many visitors and in area workers already use off street parking. This will just cause more issues for people living on the street.

I think it is fair that we should pay for parking permits if we choose to have a car and want to park on the street. Aside from people on low incomes, I think you could fairly charge a lot more than you've suggested - given the value we get from on-street parking.

I have lived in Newtown for 21 years and I thought I would stay here another 20 but Porirua and Hutt Valley are looking more attractive. There is no way the parking marked in my area is only 60% it looks to be a 5 min walk to the nearest unrestricted parking of 3 parks.

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

The proposed changes to parking on Britomart street don't seem to match the reality of the composition of the street and its residents. It does not have a large amount of visitors rather most if not all is taking by residents. There are no businesses near by that would benefit from the parking restrictions in this proposal. It seems arbitrary and not well considered

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Strongly support

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

I'm in support of the proposed changes. Currently people can park as many cars as they'd like for free on the street with no disincentive. Some of my neighbours have more cars than they do people living in their house. The proposed scheme because it will make it easier for residents and visitors to find a park when needed, while also encouraging people to rethink their travel choices. Streets aren't just for cars, especially not the storage of cars.

I'd support the resident/P120 parking restriction being expanded to the entire zone (instead of select streets). Parking pressure is going to inevitably push out to these streets anyway. The most straightforward approach may be to have the entire zone under the same scheme.

Stop what you are doing, it is an easy solution for parking of all of Newtown and Berhampore, there should be one park painted outside of each residence that is for that dweller, the rest should be a free for all. You have already made it so difficult to park by the hospital, what about the hospital staff? They're the backbone of our community. Once again, you are bowing down to very few when 99% of us do not want a cycle lane to overrule the living of accesses to peoples homes. If you are really transparent you would put this out for a referendum, but we both know, that you don't want to listen to the majority but only the minority. Every rates payer should be sent a questionnaire about the cycleway and getting wellington moving, if this was in your favour then this would be all good but we all know this would not be the case. Stop getting Wellington stopped, you have made Kent terrace a motorist nightmare, so all you have done is cause more pollution. After the cycle way from Island Bay to Berhampore, the cyclists should hop on the footpath and cycle up the hill then rejoin the traffic on Adelaide road. There should be no parks taken out on the north end of the parade up to the golf course, as anybody can see that the sport fields are heavily in use. Where are these people gonna park?

Your proposed changes mean I will not be able to get a park in Lawrence Street easily. We live at 39 Lawrence Street and already have a reasonable walk to our house. It is already a struggle to find parks in the area with Wellington Hospital staff, Southern Cross Hospital staff and Wakefield hospital staff all looking for parking within the area and not taking patients parks. If there is less parking, staffing will also be an issue as staff lose accessibility to parking within the area. It is already hard enough to find parking for staff, why make it harder. Healthcare workers should not have to park 4-5 blocks away from their place of work. Especially after working long hours and in the dark with the streets here having low lighting.

When working for a hospital in the area that currently has a construction zone and no parking for staff, having restrictions means no where for staff to park. With healthcare already struggling to find staff, this will make the situation far worse

This is ridiculous. It limits residents and forces them to pay more money in an already horrendous housing market. We need vehicles to work and need to park them in order to use them. We live in a flat that requires multiple flat mates to have their own vehicle but this stupid scheme assumes all households are made up of a nuclear family unit that can share cars among themselves, which is not the case for a large proportion of the houses in the areas specified. Furthermore, why should we have to start paying for street space in a financial crisis - we are already paying stupid amounts of money on rent and petrol, why suddenly add to this?.

This whole thing is ridiculous. It assumes households are made up of family units who will share cars rather than a huge proportion of the housing around the area which is made up of flats, different individuals who do not share vehicles like families otherwise might. Furthermore, the parking in the area is fine how it is stop messing with it.

If you're trying to encourage people to use their car less/not own a car, this is a terrible strategy. I'm all in favour of less cars/more bikes and pedestrians but the problem stems from the shameful state of public transportation. Develop actual public transportation system, actual as in not buses - unless you create continuous bus lanes that never share their lane with cars/bikes as this defies the purpose of a bus lane. Move the airport out of the southernmost point of the city and half you traffic issues are solved.

The limit of 2 permits per dwelling is ignoring the fact that in Wellington, the majority of young adults live in shared houses. Being a car owner and living with 3, 4, 5+ other car owner is very common in Wellington. What's the plan for them? I'm in my early 30s, have a government job, make over $100k a year, but still live with 5 flat mates as housing is unaffordable in Wellington. I also own a car that I mostly use on weekend. If the country had actual public transport, not only intra city but inter-cities, maybe I wouldn't need a car to go on weekends but sadly we are decades away from that. For a standard family with two parents and some kids yes sure having a maximum of two permits per dwelling makes sense. But the proposal is completely blind to the fact that way of living have changed, adults now live with other adults who are neither their partner nor family members and potentially all need a car for various reasons. What exactly are the other 3-4 flat mates supposed to do with their car everyday while at work? All parking on residential streets should be P120 (resident permit exempt) with no limits on number of cars, or a limit based on maximum number of tenants allowed in the dwelling. The current proposed limit is penalizing people in shared house arrangements, while mom and dad homeowners won't be impacted. You need to fix the housing and public transport before implementing such changes.

This is in keeping with plans to get people travelling to/from places and considering other options/mode of transport. While it will impact on me personally, I believe it is the right thing to do for the local community.

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

I oppose the council's moves to reduce the amount of carparks and discourage people from using cars. This is unrealistic when the bus service is unreliable and the climate is not conducive to cycling. People will always use cars as a first option and it's much better to focus on transitioning vehicles to EV and create roads that move electric vehicles (including buses) effectively across the city.

The parking scheme "proposal" appears to be driven by the cycleway "proposal". Charging residents who already pay rates and are about to be pay the additional $500 to $1000 Moa Point annual levy, I assume general rates increases in the upcoming Long-Term Plan will also be in excess of 10% p.a. This suggest WCC councillors and staff are unaware of affordability issues within the community. What cost benefit analysis has been undertaken to support this proposal and the impact it will have on residents and workers? I dont think there is an adequate solution to provide parking for users of parks and playgrounds on Adelaide Road. Finally, why are the kerbing works being undertaken on Adelaide Road when the cycleway/parking "proposal" is being consulted on?

Our Hospital, the hospital staff, the patients that need to use the hospital and the suburb which is made up of victorian heritage wooden houses nature which constantly are in stases of repair alteration addition or demolition and rebuild all heavily rely on road access and importantly the ability to be able to stop long enough to carry out the particular function and functional service. You are on the brink of starting the degradation of a community as it with out the ability to service all those old age needs the functiin and physical attributes will decline into a run down area.

As a nurse who lives in Lower Hutt, if this goes through I would simply resign. I like my job and my team but I'm not paid more for the virtue of working at Wellington hospital and it does not make economic sense for me to pay to come to work via parking permit or public transportation. But far more important to me is my time. I start at 7am and finish at 2 so that I can pick up my children from school, even if public transportation was at all reliable (it's not) I wouldn't be able to get to school in under an hour. So I drive and then I am forced to park out of zone with the hundreds of other hospital workers who still don't have enough car parks and end up clogging up some other residential streets. Not to mention walking through Newtown in the dark in winter. I am one able little ant but I am not alone in the sentiment that working for Wellington hospital isn't worth the effort as the healthcare workforce have enough challenges without piling parking on top of it.

See above re hospital staff. It doesn't look like there has been any consideration for a vital part of our community.

This is going to punish health care workers working at the hospital. The health system is already in collapse. Don't make it any worse for hospital staff than it already is.

I think that it should be enforced from Monday to Friday rather than at weekends as well. I also think a lot of healthcare staff work in the surrounding area, and these people are going to end up having to pay to go to work, which doesn't seem fair.

I think building more parking - upwards spaces. It feels like there's unused space in Newtown. Especially hospital parking - a new multistorey there would help wonders as staff and patients alike would no longer park on the street.

The number of day passes is ridiculously high - Roy Street, the Council Apartments and proposed developments around 603-605 Mansfield street for example, would potentially to have over 4000 full day passes issued which completely undermines the purpose of prioritised permanent resident parking. This needs to be managed down - for instance would the Apartments get 25 day permits per unit? Are the permits restricted to use in a 24 month period so they can't be 'stored up'. The ability to purchase additional passes at $18 has the perverse incentive of encouraging people to purchase on behalf of other who need parking (especially for hospital) where $18 will be cheaper than paying commercial day parking. This proposal will only work if Wellington Council Parking Services actually monitors and enforces the parking areas - this will be especially important for the MEDIAN STRIPS ON ROY STREET which are notorious for people parking on and blocking driveway access. I suggest that these be painted with cross-hatch yellow lines to actively deter illegal parking into the median.

I think 8-8 is too long - consider 8-6 . 50 day permits seems like quite a few per household and these could have commodity value

I work at the hospice in Newtown. Currently even without parking restrictions I have to leave my house early enough to allow 30 minutes to find a park even remotely close to work and walk there, many days this is very difficult and even allowing 30 minutes to do so is not enough and am often late to work. I simply cannot leave earlier. With the proposed changes which restrict parking in the area to a ridiculous level there is no way I will be able to get a park. Additional to this, to propose that it is acceptable that people who work in the Newtown area (mostly hospital staff who are looking after very sick people for 8-12 hours at a time - under paid, over worked, burnt out - let that sink in for a second) walk at least 10 minutes to their car at 6.30am in the morning and 11pm at night is just not safe. I am aware of many incidence involving staff around the Newtown area whose safety is compromised with the current parking, let alone having to walk an additional 10 minutes (but lets be honest, with what is proposed in the area map it is in reality at least a 20 minute if not longer) to their car. To propose this sort of change, with such a immense effect of a particular group of our community - our healthcare work force - who work so hard to serve it is just outrageous. Ultimately, I believe this proposal will result in many nurses and doctors leaving their jobs both at the hospital and at the hospice, because they are unable to park with safety or security. I strongly oppose this proposal for all the reasons mentioned above, and I hope that you take both my feedback and those of my fellow healthcare colleagues and extremely seriously.

The elephant in the room here is that you have Wellington's largest employer located in the area. I assume the council likes the idea of the city having a hospital, and parking pressure would exist wherever a hospital exists. The issue that seems to be avoided here is the overall lack of parking, not the allocation of existing car parks. How is the council going to address the issue of medical staff getting to work? Because for an essential service that surely cannot be the sole responsibility of the employer. And the safety of predominantly female staff who will arriving and leaving at the afternoon/night shift change? I don't think this issue has been adequately thought through.

Without daily parking my ability to begin work at the hospital before 6am and coming from the outer Northern suburbs will be impossible. I would have to strongly consider leaving my job and looking for other work. The hospital is likely to lose many employees who come from outer areas when they are already understaffed. good luck for the general population to get timely treatment

A good, practical scheme. If anything, the P120 zones could cover more areas as there is a risk they become filled with residents rather than those visiting the area.

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

I support the parking scheme as long as the priority for electric cars is removed. This is nothing more than virtue signalling for the wealthy and allows them to get guaranteed parking permits.

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

Very likely

I walk to work and have my car for use on weekends. Without a permit I would not be able to park the car anywhere near my house.

I object to making electric vehicles priority 2 as this will guarantee wealthy people permits as they can afford to purchase an electric car. It will also force residents with ICE cars to drive to work instead of using public transport or walking or cycling giving worse environmental outcomes.

,Äm going to end up walking a really long way in the dark and that scares me. There are no public transport options that get me home for a hospital shift that ends at 11pm, and that shift starts at 8 am - so I,Äll be competing for parks with all the other hospital staff starting at that time. There might be parks only 1-2 km from the hospital, but realistically there,Äll be loads of hospital people and Newtown people parking there and pushing that further away. While I,Äm a fan of (better) bike lanes and public transport, and normally use those to get to and from work, on long shifts that end at 11 pm, a car parked nearby is the safest way - and feels dangerous even with the short walk I have now!

Why did you select that answer?

We are a flat of 3 young doctors each with our own car as there are often times that all 3 of us are placed at different hospitals (Kenepuru, Hutt, Wellington City, Wairarapa) and need to commute to these for our jobs as public transport is not as reliable and takes far too long when we already work 10+ hour days, night shifts, weekends for up to 12-14 days in a row. We rely heavily on being able to easily park in and around our home as we don't have an off street car park and driving as our commute makes our lives a little bit easier and more manageable. Our fourth flatmate also has a car though doesn't use it as frequently as we do. So we would definitely be applying for 2 permits. However only being able to access maybe 2 permits puts us in a really difficult situation where we struggle to be able to fulfill our commitments to the industry we work in if we can't easily commute.

The proposal for limited P120 from 8am-8pm including weekends is really limiting for us. It would be better if the P120 was only weekdays and from 9am-6pm. This is also likely when those P120 times would be needed most and be fairer on residents who need more long term parking. If it was from 9am-6pm we would be able to park our additional cars (ie more than the hopeful 2 permits we could get) close to our home overnight and leave to commute in the morning and park over the weekend the most needed times. Or being able to access more parking permits than just 2. We really love living in Newtown and would hate to have to move out of the suburb due to struggles to access parking when we need it most (evening/overnight and weekends that we aren't working). We would still need to figure out how we'd be able to park our cars during the daytime when we have a day off or are working night shifts. The map of the proposed limited parking is unclear and looked like most if not all residential streets in the Newtown East area were going to be included in the P120 scheme which does not reflect the only 60%. Please make it clearer. It would be good to have several areas of unrestricted parking so that if we can only have max 2 permits we can still find parking suitably close to our home. People who live in Newtown should not be limited to accessing parking. Everyone has different circumstances so limiting their access to parking with only 2 permits is not okay. This makes it challenging for people living in flatting/shared accommodation type arrangements as it is difficult to share cars when each flatmate comes from a different background etc. I can see why a limit of 2 is proposed but it makes it only feasible for families who may have one or two cars and burdens those in flatting situations like us who rely on our cars to work. Again support disabilities getting priority to permits but I think that anyone living in the area without off street parking should then be next priority.

The map looks like all streets in Newtown East particularly the predominantly residential streets are going to be P120 which is not 60% Please make it clearer. If a street is predominantly residential then it should not be exclusively P120 you need to have different options for parking for residents. Either increase the number of permits people have access to, reduce the restriction hours to weekdays 9-6pm or have fewer P120 spaces.

In my view any resident parking should primarily be reserved for rate payers who have no off street parking and it should be on an ' At All Times ' basis, particularly if they are paying $195 pa in addition to the current exorbitant rates. In regard to your eligibility criteria I take issue with the bulk of it, in particular Groups 2,3,4,7 and 8. It is simply incomprehensible that priority can be given to EV owners and those with homes in specific age ranges. In what universe does EV ownership and construction age have anything to do with street parking spaces. What makes them so privileged when compared with every other rate payer in the city ? So elitist and discriminatory, many simply cannot ford to buy these expensive commodities. In regard to Groups 7 and 8 if there is off street parking available why allow a first permit at all. In my view the permit allocation should read - Group 1 - temporary or permanent mobility holders Group 2 - elderly ratepayers ( over 70s ) Group 3 - first permit for every dwelling in the street with no off street parking. Group 4 - first permit for businesses located within the P120 resident permit exempt parking zone Group 5 - second permits for priority dwellings outlined below - Group ( 5a ) - multi-occupied dwellings ( house share / flat ) with no off street parking. Group ( 5b ) - businesses within a P120 resident permit parking zone with no off street parking including staff and customer spaces. Group 6 - second permit for all dwellings in the street with no off street parking. Group 7 - second permit for all dwellings in the street with or without off street parking. In addition to the above your lack of understanding and empathy for Hospital workers who are required to work shifts and maybe required to walk some distance to their car at midnight or later is astounding.

The Council are limiting who can visit households in these areas. they are also discriminating on socio economic status and race by taxing those with families who visit households. those in council flats will be unable to afford the permits and are likely to have family visiting from outside the area.

A good idea to prioritise residents parking and those with mobility issues. Perhaps providing an exemption for hospital staff for a couple of years while Te Whatu Ora sorts out parking there could work, or a shuttle service from a spot that is easier to park out of Newtown and Berhampore.

I believe it is the right thing to prioritise residents and those with mobility issues. I think it'd be better if it were only one resident permit per household instead of two, because that would potentially double the number of parks available. Perhaps providing an exception for hospital staff for a couple of years while their employer provides parking is a good idea.

I think in general the locations are good, however I think Britomart St in Berhampore shouldn't have the two hour restrictions on it. This is generally where the staff at the school park, and they are not residents, but need to be at school all day.

For selfish reasons, it would be great to have one P120 zone (resident permit exempt) extended. The proposed P120 zone on Hanson street finishes at 205 Hanson St. It would be efficient to extend it 1.5 parks past 207 Hanson St. up to the dashed yellow lines on the 'corner' with Stoke St.

Overall I support your proposal except on two points. First, the fee is too high. Quite bluntly, you're adding a new tax without providing any additional services! What is that money going to be spent on? Second, there should be further restrictions for certain types of multi-dwelling buildings. For example, the buildings situated at 16-18 Constable Street and 20 Rintoul Street were intentionally built as high-occupancy, multi-dwelling apartments with no off-street parking. By buying such properties, the owners in effect agreed to a social contract that cars are an unnecessary possession in Newtown. These should be added to the list of „Äineligible dwellings,Äö.

If you have any comments to make about the restrictions and eligibility of the resident exemption permits, please share them here.

Overall I support your proposal except on one point. There should be further restrictions for certain types of multi-dwelling buildings. For example, the buildings situated at 16-18 Constable Street and 20 Rintoul Street were intentionally built as high-occupancy, multi-dwelling with no off-street parking. By buying such properties, the owners in effect agreed to a social contract that cars are an unnecessary possession in Newtown. If each of the dwellings were provided with a resident permit (or two), it would crowd out others. Therefore, such buildings should be limited to less than 1 permit per dwelling. I strongly agree with many other points, such as 1) your proposal to not provide permits to non-motorised vehicles (such as trailers, and caravans), heavy goods vehicles, motorhomes, house buses, buses, coaches, and boats. Some of these take up the same space as multiple cars and should be stored elsewhere. 2) Your proposal that any dwelling with a driveway or garage kerb ramp will be deemed to have off-street parking because a ramp prevents anyone else parking on this part of the street. There are several of these around with signs that say things like „Äð do not block drive 24 hours,„Äð even though it looks like the gate/door hasn,Äðt been opened in a decade! 3) Garages will count as off-street parking even if the garage is being used for other purposes like storage or is too small for an owner,Äðs current vehicle. Same reason as above for those not used.

Your exclusion on Lawrence Street (on the reserve side) will make life difficult for those living up the hill with no drive-on access, as one can imagine that most of those spots will be permanently occupied by 'squatters' who don't live there.

I live in a flat - we all need to drive to our independent jobs because the bus timetable is unreliable and unsuitable (ie my partner needs to take 3 buses to get to work on time over the course of 2 hours) - this is the case for multiple houses in these areas - limiting it to two per household is quite honestly stupid.

I would prefer 180 minute limits as this would make the timing more comfortable for visitors and those attending sports matches. Two hours is often not enough for those activities. I do think a better solution needs to be found for staff parking at the hospital and would encourage council to engage with the workforce to find solutions that will work (e.g. are there areas where park-and-ride could be expanded? Is the Hospital Express bus meeting demand?)

I don't think the division by houses with/without off-street parking makes sense for the number of visitor day passes, as almost all of the time the off-street parking will be taken by the residents and not available for guests. Why not just the same number for both groups?

The number of cars per property doesn't reflect how people live, especially people flatting who often have 3-4 independent adults per house. I'm not sure what the answer is for this but it should be taken into consideration. Strongly support prioritisation model, especially making sure people with mobility issues are given prioritisation.

It is already challenging to find parking as a hospital worker. The need for the proposed increased amount of residential or 2 hour parking is not evident to me. Please think of a better solution for us the workers who currently rely on street parking.

I favour the encouragement for better usage of public transport and more efficient use of carparks for those that still require that -but where there are large numbers of buildings without off-street carparking and multiple regular occupants within single buildings (tenants and employees of businesses), transferable window signs, additional unrestricted parks and 2nd or 3rd passes per building are all required over and above what is currently proposed.

We own a mixed use building (a hair salon and 3-bed residential in same building) with no off-street parks and no resident permit currently. The different employees of the business would each need a permit or needing to shift vehicles every two hours plus the residential tenants have parking needs separately to that. All needs are currently accommodated with the unrestricted street parking t-hat would be very difficult with the proposal. Even with the priority group allocations, businesses and residential in mixed use zoned buildings without any off-street parking should each be entitled to a "first" allocation (i.e. two firsts, not one first and one second) as they are two separate rating units anyway. Further whilst vehicle/number plate specific might be OK for residential tenants, for businesses it would be better to have a display pass that could be used by whatever employee using whatever vehicle was on shift that particular day -not practical to tie to a single number plate.

The WCC really needs to stop getting rid of all these parking spaces. Your turning Wellington in to a ghost town. Not providing parking for business, especially small business roadside. Think about the smaller people for once. We all drive and bike, however the bike lanes should not steal car parking spaces. Whilst youre promoting greener ways of travel. Your restricting parking overall. You do see how many EV cars are around now. They need parking. We all need parking!!! Watch as you stop all soending, people are already shopping in outer suburbs, instead of the city. As there is no parking!!! Understand where we are coming from. Dont take away the parking for these cycle ways!!! We actually need more parking in Berhampore and Newtown. Not less!!

I work at Wellington Hospital as a district nurse. I drive 25km from my home to work and then back. I also work shift work. The hospital does not provide adequate parking so I have to park on the street. If I was to use public transport I would need to use 2 buses and the train, and then walk 0.5km to the Ewart Building to work. This would take be 1.5hrs / 2hrs each way. Not very practical. If street parking around the hospital was to be removed. then I would stop working at Wellington Hospital and instead go the Hutt Hospital to work. Free street parking there. Also Community Health Services are having problems recruiting nurses to work at Wellington Hospital. One major reason for this is the parking around Wellington Hospital. District nurses prefer to work at the Kenepuru base where parking is free. Finally, public transport is expensive, inefficient and unreliable. Sort this out first, and the water pipes before you start to put in more cycle ways. GET the basics right first please.

The options for resident parking needs to provide more nuance regarding availability of off street parks and pressure that will come from removing spaces in nearby streets/zones. Some residents that only have off street options that are already competing with residents from neighbouring streets and dwellings with multiple cars are going to be unfairly disadvantaged and I'm concerned for those that may not have specific mobility issues, but may find it difficult to walk up to 100m up a hill in the wind and rain with their groceries (i.e. aging community, parents with young children). There should be more prioritization of the location of resident parking zones and introduce small pockets of resident only parking where required.

If you have any comments about the locations of the P120 (resident permit exempt) parking or the scheme and zone boundaries, please provide them here.

I live on Adelaide Rd between Palm Grove and Te Wharepouri Street. There are a small number of parks here that service the houses built on this street pre 1930's with no off street parking, the houses on Te Wharepouri street with no off street parking, and visitors to the local shopping area. There are a number of residents in this area that are aging or have mobility issues. During busy periods it is very difficult to find a park in this area and makes doing necessary chores like grocery shopping difficult. Removing many of the parks from Luxford Street and increasing the restrictions around this area will mean this strip of parks will be used more regularly by other residents around the area and temporary visitors to the area. I want the plan to consider having some resident only parks for some areas like this that have no off street parking and will get even more pressure from temporary parks taking up space. There are no off street parking options and no ability to make off street parking options, therefore, residents should be prioritized so that they can park within ~100m of their residence.

As stated before. A lot of workers that work in the area live around the area and some are from far away. This means that residents have the rights for free parking and it is unfair for people who travel all the way to these areas to have to pay. Parkings should be free in residential areas

This will be a significant deterrent for those who travel from the greater Wellington region to work at Wellington hospital. There is not enough adequate car parking provided by any means as it is and it is significantly overpriced. It means shift workers will have to park outside of parking zones and walk in the dark to get to their cars through Newtown. Hospital employees will find work in smaller regions over Wellington hospital, leading to further staff shortages. Public transport is simply not adequate for those that are travelling from greater Wellington to Wellington hospital.

There's a possibility you could recuse parks without introducing parking restrictions, which would achieve your goal preventing "grinding newtown and berhampore to a halt". This seems like you've gone for the most uniform approach, without considering the nuanced community and traffic behaviours in Berhampore. But overall the changes for bike safety and bus improvements are welcome.

I'd have no choice, as you are planning to blanket it across all three zones. None of the dwellings in the property I live in have off street parks.

If you have any comments to make about the restrictions and eligibility of the resident exemption permits, please share them here.

The boundary specifications of permits will disadvantage those who live near them. If I live at the north-most point on Adelaide Road in the Berhampore section, and often rely on parking by Macalister park, under this new scheme I will no longer have that option as I won't be permitted for Newtown West. The visitor passes are a potentially awkward product. Have you considered instead having trades vehicle businesses apply for Suburb Exemptions, which would remove the onus on properties if this is your targeted exemption. I'm thinking of other purposes exemptions would be used, such as visiting friends and relatives. Most residents beyond the Berhampore village areas and Newtown arteries (ie the fringes) only experience challenging in parking for events (eg weekends of sport). While it is fine to need to compete for spots when you reduce total parks Rintoul, Luxford and Adelaide to Wakefield, it feels unfair to make residents pay for permits here on top of rates for a restriction that seems, at this point, unlikely to make a difference to protect them. Perhaps you would be better off reducing the restricted hours to 8am-6pm, Monday to Friday, then planning enforcement activity more on an as need basis, or rather a community relationship approach to your enforcement service. Its hard to give feedback on parking restrictions in isolation of road and bus service quality, though this is something WCC shares responsibility on. In a broad-picture, lack of good services mean people continue to rely on cars.

By getting rid of resident only areas and making it all P120 it is going to mean that residents are going to be unable to leave their house during the day because there will be no available spots when they return. This already happens because people park illegally in these spots.

There needs to be some resident only areas that remain. By making it all P120 it is going to increase traffic in smaller streets, particularly those that are a dead end and have no turning circle.

it is insane to think that your PROPOSED (not a done deal yet!) will solve any issues. look around, there are more cars than ever, because the public transportation system constantly fails and so forces people to use cars even within the city! BUT cars of course are also used to travel further afield and where are these cars all suppose to park? P120??!?!? Priorities need to change, set up a bus system that works and IS reliable and let that run for some time and see how people change to it. if that is on track THEN think cycleways! do the cycleways need to be in the most busiest of street? NO! why is the cycleway into town an own lane and a shared one coming back home? why can't it be a shared space all the way to and from the city? it just does not make sense. But most of all, don't take carparks away for a handful of cyclists! i am not against cyclists or cycleways AT ALL, but WCC just got the priorities so wrong. 1. WCC needs to priotise their spending. there are greater issues that really impact the residence rather than cyleways! leaky pipes, precious water wasted, sewage pipes broken or sewage running into the sea! 2. environmental issues: landfill! all that rubbish leaking out to our streams and into the sea again. Clean green NZ! all that money for the PROPOSED cycleways is totally out of proportion. There are SO many other issues Wellington needs to be 3. set up a RELIABLE bus system! simple as that! 4. once all the above is on track, think carefully where to set up cycle lanes. Also future thinking: build apartment blocks with underground carparks (also for bikes etc)! would help solve a number of street carparking issues! i just wish WCC puts their thinking caps on the right way with being on top of wellington priorities! AND also this is 'only' a PROPOSED plan, not a done deal, right? i hope this time you listen to residence and not do an island bay cylceway trick, where all was already in the pipeline and residents really had no say what so ever!

I don't think that people that already live in the area should have to pay for the parking permits, why can't providing proof of address be enough? Majority of the people that live in Newtown are students or earn low incomes, I personally have never had a problem with parking on my street, so I don't see why I should now have to pay when it wasn't a problem before. I also think that the limit should be at least 3 permits per house, not 2. Majority almost all the houses on my street are 3 bedrooms with 4 people living in each house, we have 3 people living in our house, and because of our jobs none of us are in a position where we can give up our cars.

I think this scheme brings an element of fairness to the allocation of parking in Newtown. It will be very interesting to see how the spill-over from the hospital is managed, and I hope the hospital can also continue to work on its own mode shift for visitors and staff, to free up spaces on its own grounds. Overall, it is worth a go and as it is implemented essentially as rules and signs, it can be changed if it isn't working, or extended if the parking pressure moves elsewhere. It is important that this be trialled at the same time as the cycleway is installed, so it is understood what the impacts are on genuine resident and visitor parking (rather than an unmanaged mix of resident, visitor and commuter parking).

I really like the prioritisation scheme, but it will need to be made very clear to folks moving into the area. That is, new residents to a new building may be quite surprised to find they have rented a home with no parking available at all. But I do like the way it avoids the 'moral hazard' of building without parking and expecting free on-street parking to take up the slack.

Berhampore zone

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

Very unlikely

Why did you select that answer?

I'll park outside the zone like everyone else just pushing parking problems somewhere else. Why people who live in the ares should have to pay for parking so people on bikes who pay nothing to be on the road. Just the council tryin to get more money from hard workin people cause all the money lost in the city.

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

There is plainly insufficient road space for the rapidly increasing numbers of vehicles to use these roads for private parking. Those submitting for no change are completely out of touch with reality. Owning a vehicle when living in this area has to be a considered decision. Resident permit fees should be more than proposed. Big vehicles should cost more. Pleased to see that a garage will count as offstreet parking even if not used for a vehicle. It is thoughtless to acquire a vehicle that won't fit into an existing garage. If you want to live the "freedom of the road" dream with a big truck, Newtown is not a good place to live.

This is yet another knee jerk reaction to a perceived problem that doesn't exist OR is a result of a barrow pushed by others who are not residents in the location and who do not have need for the core facilities that are unique to the location - Wellington public hospital where access and parking have been decimated by the cyclists and their plans . There has been little forward planning to the future

I support it but also believe residential -raking scheme would be just as good with more parks being made for residents only. Newtown has a lot of rentals in the area so population is transient support only 2 permits per household but not sure how it will be monitored electronically as many renters won,Ãt have permits for all day parking.

As a resident that struggles to find parking, I support the proposed parking scheme, but we need to be conscious of hospital staff that do shift work and how dangerous it already is for them let alone how much more dangerous it will become. Shift workers need to be given subsidies for uber rides to and from work when they are starting or finishing their shifts at early or late hours

I oppose the current restrictions for eligibility of permits. Two cars per household is not always enough and denying residents parking permits to allow for visitors is not fair or just. It is unfair to limit households to two cars (if you're lucky enough to even get one, let alone two). For households that have - for example - 3 cars, one belonging to each flatmate, how do you decide who gets to keep their car and who needs to sell? Pushing residents to get rid of cars needs to be fair for them, and a choice. Special requests for more than two permits should be an option. Subsidising city hop cards and ride sharing for when people need to travel farther is a must, or when people need to get their groceries uber/taxi rides should be subsidised. We shouldn't punish people who decide to own a car. I understand that the idea is to eventually have minimal cars being owned in the central city but before we start pushing cars out we NEED to make public transport reliable and accessible. Incentivising more sustainable transport options is key moving forward but there needs to be good options first.

Take away paying for residents parking, let residents apply and provide proof that they live in said area, and then give them their pass. Too many students like in these areas and especially now with cost of living, it is not financially viable for many students to spend a hefty amount of money to simply park their car

Need to take out parking on Mein st between Daniel and Adelaide, there are 2 drop off zones on Daniel st during school start and finish and children then walk through St Annes area to get to eiterh school. Far more children bike, walk or scoot to Newtown school than get dropped off (i did a survey 1.5 years ago that showed this) so needs to be safer for people to bike, walk, on that section, as well as easier for ambulances to get out. The current situation is ridiculous.

Visitor passes, there needs to be a cost even if its small, then people value and you dont get whole heap of 'visitors' taking up space. This is the case in cities in UK where visitor parking permits cost. Agree that priority needs to be given to people with disabilities, and possibly houses that have NO room to install off street. However, there are many older homes (like our neighbours) who have space to add off street and choose not to and instead park on the road. All residents parking should be at a cost that reflects the actual land value and cost of maintaining the roads. The free parking should be max 60 mins .

See above comments. Needs to be an uphill cycle lane on Constable st. Much of parking is NOT residents (you see that in the evening) and there are NO shops on the uphill side, people visiting the one fish and chip shop are mainly residents who walk or bike. Plus there is parking on Owen st.

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Strongly oppose

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

I strongly oppose the proposed parking changes. Many people in Newtown and Berhampore will not be able to afford the extra financial burden of paying for the right to park near their own place of residence. If this scheme is implemented, Resident Exempt Permits MUST be free for residents. Charging for them is 100% exploitative and shows the priority behind these changes is not with the residents' best interests at heart. This will disproportionately affect the elderly, disabled, and people of lower income living in house-sharing situations. If parking restrictions are implemented, business owners and hospital workers should also be allowed to apply for (paid) exemption permits. They are important parts of the Newtown + Berhampore community and deserve to have access to parking as well. Hospital workers in particular already struggle with finding parking while working long shifts at unusual hours, and therefore it is essential for them to be able to find nearby, safe parking in a timely manner. To further impair their ability to get to work is going to put even more stress on our already crumbling healthcare infrastructure. The proposed zoning locations for the P120 parks are going to create a huge overflow problem on the few remaining unrestricted streets in the area, in particular the lower SE corner of the Berhampore zone including Angus, Herald, Russell, Edinburgh, and Lavaud St. This is the area I live in, and we already struggle to find off-street parking. Now even more people will be vying for these few parking spots as you have removed all other nearby options. A better use of this proposal's funding would be to build a dedicated on-site parking building for hospital staff and patients. This would improve safety and accessibility for healthcare workers and patients, as well as freeing up on-street parking through the neighbouring residential areas.

On Roy St there is an issue of illegal parking in the middle of the street, and at the end of the street in the bus turning area. It would be good to see these two issues addressed as part of this reset for Newtown, as with increasing restrictions you could imagine the illegal parking issue worsening - the solution for Roy St would be as simple as redrawing the middle line so it,Ãs not a white dashed area, for the bus turn around some bollards or a fence to protect the trees

I own a business in Newtown and do not live close-by. There is no bus scheme from where I live to Newtown, because of our fabulous public transport, so driving is the only way. If you also want to support businesses in the area as well as have your P120 cake and eat it too, you should allow at least one permit per business in the commercial areas such as Constable St so we can actually stay in trade and be part of the community. A lot of businesses are sole charge and we already have issues with safety in the Newtown area - I agree with other comments, ESPECIALLY from hospital workers who are worried about having to walk half an hour in the dark to a vehicle through the neighbourhood. 1.) Not everyone is able to do so, and 2.) this disadvantages people who are more at risk of being victims of crime. I do support residents being able to secure more parking and slightly more turnover in the Newtown area - that benefits both residents and businesses - but you have to make sure we can actually still operate our shops and our medical facilities. Wellington simply does not have the infrastructure you talk of yet to be able to support the parks being taken away with solutions like PT because .

I think that residents in the area should be guaranteed parking, but the system as it is now is relatively functional. The proposed system disadvantages flatshare houses that have multiple adults not in a family environment who may have more than one vehicle and separate lives.

If you have any comments about the locations of the P120 (resident permit exempt) parking or the scheme and zone boundaries, please provide them here.

I own a business on Constable St, and do not live in Newtown. There is no bus scheme from where I live to Newtown, so driving is the only way. If you also want to support businesses in the area as well as have your P120 cake and eat it too, you should allow at least one permit per business in the commercial areas such as Constable St so we can actually stay in trade.

I am still so angry about the nightmare the ablist bike lanes on both sides of the road outside the hospital created for people with mobility issues so that a very few people can bike. You need at least one side of a road with free parking. People who can't walk far, people who can't afford the ridiculously costly hospital parking and who can't walk to a bus stop or tolerate being jerked around on a bus need to park outside shops and services. The Hospital providing free parking to patients, people with speacilaist appts and visitors would go a long way to fixing these issues and then you can do what you like with the streets around the hospital. People who can't afford the hospital parking will park nearby and should be able to for free if the hosptial won't provide parking for free. And at least one side of that road should be for parking cars.

The Hospital is a major problem so Mein Street and Hall Street are now the ONLY places to park for free for anytime anymore at the hospital. Either the hospital parking becomes free or Mein Street and Hall Street cannot be made 120 max parking. Not everyone can take a bus or walk very far or afford to pay for a carpark. Myself case in point, I live with chronic pain, cannot walk or stand for long and getting to and from a bus stop is hard. Paying for hospital parking is too costly. The whole cycle lane replacing all the street carparks outside the hospital has been a major issue. No longer can get blood tests and I think they had to close due to no parking. Hospital appts are very hard. Parking away from the hospital is hard. My parents are in their 80s and they also find buses painful now with the walking, standing and being jerked around with the movement and the lack of parking near the hospital has made life harder. Your parking suggestions would be fine if the hospital had free parking for patients, their visitors and those at appointments as those always go over 2 hours. It's disgusting that a hospital makes money out of parking for vulnerable people and accentuates the divide of the haves and the have nots when people can't even get to a hospital anymore. When I had cancer surgeries my kids had to park for 9 hours waiting for me to come out of surgery, it cost a fortune and we couldn't afford that at that time. Not your problem maybe but definitely a contributor to the parking issues in Newtown as people like me who can't pay for parking end up using what could be resident parking. Pressure the hospital for free parking for patients and visitors.

I recently had a hospital appointment for my son and we couldn't find a park anywhere close to the hospital. We eventually found one up the road and walked down. Fine for us (if your not running late), but with the hospital carpark already generally full how are the disabled, elderly or families needing to get to the hospital in an emergency ever going to find parking close by

The loss of car parks already creates an outstanding demand on what the council says will only increase. So why are you taking more away? These questions are loaded. I don't support people having to pay to visit their families & acknowledging some free days is saying we accept it. I'm not paying to pick up my old mother because she can't ride a bike.

This change is long overdue. I live in Hanson Street and it appears that backpackers and garages are using our street to leave cars for days at a time. Finding a park is increasingly difficult. If people buy an electric car they will need to park directly outside their house in order to recharge.

It will be much tougher for some of those impacted, especially small business like Dairy and access to Launderette is already tricky will be much harder which may impact those without laundry facilities at home. There needs to be some consideration for non-resident teachers and teacher aids they do not need to be discouraged to teach the children of Berhampore and Newtown. Strongly agree with the need to work with the Hospital to provide transport solutions for staff. There needs to be consideration of the impacts of the scheme on the sports fields in the area. MacAlister Park needs a dedicated parking area at the north end of the park, the weekends are chaos on Adelaide Road. Martin Luckie park could use parallel parking development on Lauvad Street south side, as this road is often impassible. These areas could be used as overflow for residents during the week.

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

The parking scheme unfairly disadvantages adults living in a flat share arrangement. We cannot share a vehicle like a family can. Therefore passes should be provided on an individual basis and not by household.

Do you own or use a car/van/ute, and park it, in the Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme area?

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

Very likely

Why did you select that answer?

We all live in a flatting arrangement with four independent adults who have their own cars. We are not a family who can utilise one and therefore would be treated unfairly under the new system.

This scheme unfairly disadvantages adults in flatting situations and prioritises those in a family household. Many people these days living in households with several independent adults who all have their own reasons for owning vehicles. It is not like a family who can share a vehicle. Therefore passes should be based on individual needs and not based on a household.

The locations are all in streets around the hospital where I work. I need to be able to get to work and there is no bus direct from Brooklyn to Newtown despite the suburbs being next to eachother. This is not in your proposed plan. I can not ride a bike to work so therefore I would have to walk home as my only option which does not feel safe late at night. Plus sometimes working at the hospital can be incredibly difficult and you just want to go straight home not walk 48 minutes to get home. These changes may directly influence people in staying employed at the hospital and we already have several vacancies and struggle to recruit.

There are four people and cars in my flat and we have one garage. Three of us have to park on the street and its so hard to find a park sometimes. reducing the number of parks by half will make it near impossible to park. I have to drive to work and with this proposal there will be no "free parking" which isnt a signifcant walk to my house

I work for the DHB, there is insufficient parking already. I park on the road and walk to the community health building. I need my car to be available for child care if required during the day. If this is implemented what is proposed for assisting us to park? The hospital workers are already under pressure, and staff will leave if they cannot park their vehicle. It is simply ludicrous to consider such changes without considering where hospital and community health workers may park their vehicles to come to work.

This is unfair for the staff that work at all areas of the hospital. It is not possible for all staff to walk, bike or take buses to work - it would add 1.5 hours at the beginning and the end of the day for me. With a 15 minute walk - rain or shine from the main hospital bus stop up the hill to the Ewart Building.

As a healthcare professional it is hard enough currently trying to find parking in Newtown. Public transport is not early enough or reliable enough to get you to work on time or home hence why a car is needed. Healthcare professionals should be granted special permits to park as we do now. I would be happy to pay for a residents permit parking coupon should this be considered!

I work in the area as a nurse at Mary Potter Hospice. Now parking is available there for weekday mornings and although parking is allocated for afternoon/evening shifts (3 spaces) visitors take these parks. Where do you suggest I park for my shifts? I travel to work from Upper Hutt so public transport would take around 2 hours. Plus I finish often at 11pm and public transport would not be available to get me home.

I don't support it. The buses that you're proposing to increase services of are not going to get better until you increase bus driver welfare. Reducing parking and charging money for the 'right' to park outside a flat that we already rent for hundreds of dollars per week is such a bad idea and you should feel bad for even suggesting to charge people already living in a low income area, in the middle of a cost of living crisis, more money for 'inconvenience'.

We have cars and can only put them on the street. The nearest area that doesn't have proposed parking is too far to walk to and from when the car is required.

Look, I understand the need to reduce the number of people parking in the area. However, it is disgusting that you are charging exorbitant amounts of money to people living in a low income area who are already struggling for money for a service that used to be free. $200 for a permit per car is disgusting and you're only doing this to take money from students and low income workers who are already struggling to make ends meet. I need my car to visit my sick grandfather out in Paraparaumu every few weeks, and there are already so many costs in running a car. Yes, there can be resident permits, but we should just prove we live at an address in the permit area to get free parking, not have to pay for a service we already had before you changed it, where the money won't go to fix the 6 potholes in the area that [redacted] out water and god knows what else. Good day sir.

Again, you're targeting low socioeconomic areas that don't have access to off street parks and are now charging us for a service that will have very few positives. I do not struggle to obtain a park as it is, so there is no real need for it to change

Parking in the Newtown area is already difficult when I'm working here for either a 5hr or potentially 9hr day. This will make it impossible. As I am travelling from the Churton Park area and am restricted when I can leave because of school drop off and pick ups this will potentially have a big impact. Ultimately, it may mean I need to reduce my hours in order to park further away or attempt to use much lengthier public transport options and of course that will also create a financial impact.

Not sure if this is the place to share this feedback - but I think annual payments may be restrictive for those on low incomes or short term tenancy periods. Possibly grant the permit for a year - and pay quarterly or similar like rates are charged.

North end of Coromandel Steet looks like it is incomplete on your map. 4 parks appear to be un-assigned to the categories. 2 EV charging spots, and 2 normal parks which I assume will be P120 (resident exempt).

I somewhat regularly visit Newtown to shop. I can normally get a park on Riddiford St to the south of Constable St. Your proposal excludes this area as the "Shopping area". On that basis I'm not affected by the proposal but that is entirely conditional that you don't subsequently move to restrict/remove parking in this area. Without an assurance about the future of parking in the "shopping area" its not possible to determine the impact.

My main concern is the limited number of residents parking permits per dwelling in the case of flats - fine for family dwellings but totally unrealistic for flatting situations. Also I think I read that the changes will be made in Newtown East last. As soon as the changes are put in place in the other adjoining zones will it not mean more people immediately start parking in Wellington East further restricting our current parking. Also as a homeowner I am surprised the council has not directly contacted me to inform me of these proposed changes. I only found out through my employee who was sent a survey link from the council as he is a cycling advocate but does not live in the affected zones.

There are a lot of properties in Newtown that are not family homes but rented to groups of hospital workers. Issuing one/two maximum permits per dwelling does not take the needs of these residents into consideration. They live in Newtown to be close to work and work shifts and commute to the other hospitals in the region etc, where are they supposed to park their vehicles? Also when members of the flat turn over i.e. get shifted to other hospitals is the tenant who takes their place able to take over their permit? You seem to have formed the view that every dwelling is a family dwelling and that is not the case.

This will have a negative impact on whanau and friends visiting patients at the Hospice, with limited on site parking visitors already need to find street parking, this will make it more stressful for visitors and 2 hours just isn't enough if you are with a loved one who is dying. Staff already park on the street, this will make it harder for staff and potentially unsafe if they are trying to find a car park in the dark, late at night.

I have a number of staff who work at Mary Potter hospice using street parking who will now find it harder to find a park. This will mean they have to leave home earlier to find a park, have a great distance to walk to get to work, in an area that may not always be safe for a predominantly female workforce particularly in the dark. the Hospice has limited parking for visitors, if visitors are with a loved one who is dying they need more than a 2 hour parking space, this will add stress and worry to whanau at a time that is already stressful and worrying. The "competition" for parking spaces with no restrictions will be high with staff and visitors from Wellington Hospital. We already have recruitment problems in Newtown with parking already being an issue, this will make it harder to recruit nurses and other clinical staff.

This feels less like an attempt to solve the parking and transport problems faced by this city than an attempt to make money and add another layer of bureaucracy and cost to already stretched households. Fix the bus system first, be realistic about how much these suburbs will grow in population, stop adding in more huge bike lanes that take up space and consider the use of clearways alongside other changes.

While we are technically classed as an 'inner city suburb' in Berhampore, I do not believe that we should have to pay so much and have so much disruption to our parking. I presume WCC will need to fund a lot of new parking inspector roles to fulfil this plan and I'd rather they put the money towards fixing our broken water infrastructure first.

I fully support increasing cycling opportunities and the use of public transport, however not all jobs are one size fits all. You have shift workers, mainly women, who are caring for the dying - they are to ride bikes? Walk 15 mintues at 11pm at night to their car? What about family of those who are dying? Ride a bike? Get the bus? It's not really functional for an institution of this kind.

High density housing and the growing ability to work from home already affects the parking available. I work at the Hospice which is bang slap in the middle of housing and has very limited parking, this of course is prioritized for visitors. Staff are in attendance 24x7 and are predominantly women. Restricted parking will take staff from their shifts to move vehicles at least 3 times each. Family and friends of patients will also be forced to move vehicles, this could be at a critical time in patient care. Of course I'm sure council would waive the fine for a family member whose relative died, forcing them to go over 120 minutes but who really wants to deal with bureaucracy during a time of immense grief? Our volunteers will drop off if they are unable to obtain parking (we do dedicate 2 spaces to them) as they already give their own time to provide meal services, dog therapy, flower arrangements, reception and much much more. Staff will not want to work somewhere that they cannot get safe parking for the duration of their shift. Is that what we want to happen to a longstanding Wellington Institution that offers such invaluable services to patients who have life limiting illnesses, often receiving end of life care, and the family who support them?

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

I strongly support this proposal. It's always tempting to respond with a 'what' in it for me, mindset but compromise will be necessary. Newtown and Berhampore are very diverse communities - it's their strength - as are those who 'use' the suburbs. There will be conflicting viewpoints. The proposed changes are a great attempt to balance needs fairly. The present on street parking situation is untenable. As a longtime resident, I see inadequate hospital parking as the major problem, especially for workers. This is Te Whatu Ora's responsibility, not the WCC's problem. In the short term, until a quality public transport system is embedded, rather than aspired to, the use of vacant, neglected land around and behind the hospital might be explored. Fees for health workers parking during working hours need to be low. It is reasonable for patients to pay to park but those eligible for community cards might be exempt. The proposed annual parking fee for residents will not appeal to some but on street parking is a privilege. Reduced charges might be considered for a small number e.g. beneficiaries. It would be a great pity to demolish houses built before cars to build apartments with garages. The detail for eligibility seems fair but could always be adjusted with an open rather than bureaucratic mind. Hopefully, change will happen soon. It is very belated and delays are divisive and alienate citizens from their council, which is often seen as divided and inactive. Go for it and adjust as necessary. Bottom lines need to be greater use of public transport and cycling or walking, and preserving heritage housing by giving residents the option of paying for on street parking. Cars need to be used less but they are still sometimes required. While garages or concrete pads in front of houses might be seen as desirable today, this was not the case before WW1. I would not want to demolish to solve the problem. Newtown resident 40+ years

Nurses working at the hospital are working shift work. Hard enough already to find a park. Don't feel safe walking around newtown alone in the dark which is often time when starting or finishing a shift. This proposal heavily restricts hospital workers being able to park near their work and the public transport system is not reliable for shift workers. Using public transport would double my transit time to work having to take multiple modes of transport. Strongly oppose this proposal.

Numbers of cars per resident will remain the same, including parking permit doesn't solve the parking space but just basically a nuisance for both resident and govt will get the money without implementing more infrastructure or space in the area for vehicles

This will make it much easier to find parking when I need to take a car to attend work related project meetings at Wellington Hospital and at Wakefield Hospital. I have in the past wasted 20 odd minutes trying to find a carpark. The bus services past Wellington Hospital are frequent and provide easy access from central Wellington, so I am likely to keep using the bus for meetings at Wellington Hospital rather than wasting time driving and parking.

The reduction in parking makes it difficult for residents to get groceries , or drive children to activities. whilst it is important to recognize the importance of sustainable transport options . this needs to be considered against practical requirements of modern living for the existing residents.

The hospital is essential for many people who can't deal with more parking issues, especially staff. Their needs should be prioritised. For everyone else, they need to realise that living 1km from the CBD of our capital city comes with limitations. We are in a climate emergency, and really can't afford for everyone to drive cars in low density inner city neighbourhoods.

Please leave the parks for the staff that need to get to work esp at the hospital, petrol prices let alone parking tickets are too expensive! We,Äre already short staffed so having these new parking scheme will make things harder for those that work in the area to find parks. This can cause a lot of hold ups at work, patients cares etc

If this happens, then poor staff that works hard here, will prob won,Äôt attend work due to parking! Paying for parking is too expensive esp when we don,Äôt get paid enough. I totally disagree with this whole new scheme. Residents have garages and enough space to park their vehicle in there proper Please let us workers have these free parking.

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Don't know

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

My main concern is for hospital staff who already struggle to either get to work because of poor transport outside of using a car, and poor parking for those that drive. I am not against parking restrictions in general, but believe there should be a phased approach of increasing and improving existing public transport for all hours of the day, for hospital staff as well as everyone else, then phasing in parking restriction changes as people adjust to the improved transport options and gain trust in the options they have available to them. Not to mention that the 2 hour restrictions would not suit patients who often have to wait 5+ hours before treatment, then even longer for treatment itself

Would appreciate if Berhampore remains unaffected, we already have a narrow street and occasional roadworks that obstruct parking. Please don't make life even more challenging with these limited permits and time restrictions for a residential area.

It requires payment for the permit and trouble for parking that was never a problem for us up until now.

These restrictions will make life for flatting households (of 6 individuals, by the way) so much harder especially if each household gets only 2 permits that requires annual payment AND if all households get free day passes for visitors. There is literally a visitor parking in the area already that is barely used anyway. The current street parking is already sufficient for all residents, am unsure why this project is needed.

The mix of P120 (resident permit exempt) parking spaces and unrestricted parking spaces. Strongly oppose

The boundaries of the scheme and zones as shown on the map. Strongly oppose

If you have any comments about the locations of the P120 (resident permit exempt) parking or the scheme and zone boundaries, please provide them here.

Even with the P120 and permits, how will it be regulated? What happens when someone parks for extended hours without payment? What happens to residents who did not get the limited amount of permits given??

The local playcentre in Newtown (on Harper St) has upwards of 15 families attending each day. While some families cycle, others drive and are at playcentre from 8:30am until at least 1pm, sometimes later. I would like there to be some consideration around how this will affect this community run ece.

The current scheme show no control over the space directly outside the access to our house 23 Royal Street. We have had problems with large vans and trucks parking there and blocking access tour house and would prefer the space be reserved for us so we can enter and leave our property

Currently our street has commercial vehicles stored on it, and people looking for free all day parking for the hospital. It would be good to have the parks around our place only used for short term visitors and local residents, rather than a free car yard for everyone in Wellington.

I,Ãve already commented in previous section re the hospital & its workforce, patients attending clinic appointments etc. In addition, the cycleway has already affected businesses in the area, disrupting parking etc. This proposal would be the final straw/ nail in the coffin for local businesses.

You HAVE to consider the hospital; Wellington, the largest employer, where the majority of its workforce are shift workers. Hospital staff can & do save $2k per year (as I did), by not paying for onsite parking which isn't always available or easy to find! Then there's the population demographic to consider, many who are vulnerable, from lower socioeconomic groups & / have mental health issues. They can't afford parking to attend outpatient appointments.

I need a vehicle for work, a small hatchback. My residence has a small off-street parking space, however this parking is too small for the vehicle, as it seems to have been designed for a morris minor. Under the proposed scheme, it is unlikely that I would be able to obtain a residents permit due to the de-prioritisation of dwellings deemed to have off-street parking. It appears likely under the proposed scheme that I will be unable to park, and will be ticketed for parking in front of my own driveway - even though this does not impact the availability of parking or amenities for anyone else.

I live in a rental with 2 others and it was built in 2020 which puts us at the bottom of priority list. Unsure why the year the house built has an effect on priority of parking permits. If I cannot get a parking permit this would effect whether I renew my lease in feb 2024 or not or have to move as I need a car

I think all the different health care facilities be consulted in this proposal. They are already having a very difficult time attracting staff to work in the area due to cost of living, adding this will have dire consequences.

The residents of the described area chose to live in that area, knowing that parking would be problematic. Public transportation are easily available in the area.

Please note that it is already VERY difficult to find staffing in Newtown for medical workers who work in the number of health services in the area, this would mean a more difficult time attracting workers.

As a nurse who has to park in the area of Newtown as i live out of Wellington and have to travel in for mixed shifts start/finish times and unreliable public transport and being a young woman leaving shift late at night or starting early mornings in dark its unsafe to be walking alone long distances. Unable to get appropriate transport from Kapiti into Wellington for shift times There is no parking at the hospital for staff so staff are forced to use side streets and other areas of public parking Cant ride a bike from Kapiti into Wellington along with so many other members of staff in community setting on Coromandel street not just the hospital setting Take into account the age of people within the area and an aging population who cant ride bikes or access public transport easily Metlink working out timings for shift start/finish times are either unavailable or adds an additional 3 hours to an already long working day Living crisis bikes are expensive not everyone has access or can ride a bike due to ailments/health conditions

I don't think that the scheme takes into consideration the size of the houses in the area - big old houses with lots of bedrooms. In many cases, these aren't one-family dwellings but flats where many adults live. A three-bedroom house could still have six adults living in it. Let alone a four-bedroom with a separate studio apartment. While the parking situation isn't great at the moment (I actively choose to not use my car during the week so as to not lose my carpark), this scheme looks as though it's going to make it harder to everyone, including the residents.

Many of the old houses in the area are large, so have more bedrooms. There could be eight people living on my property. While I hope that not every person in a house has a car, I think two per dwelling is not taking the size of the houses into consideration. If this scheme was to happen, then my flatmates and I would be requiring three permits, and that's with at least one car being got rid of. It sounds as though this is going to make finding a legal park even harder than it is now.

As already stated, your plan simply penalises people who commute to work. People who live in the northern suburbs, and beyond, cannot reasonably commute by public transport without adding excessive costs, time and stress to their day - Wellington City Council should be thinking of all, not just those who live in the southern suburbs who can easily cycle or catch a bus to work.

You are simply penalising people who live outside the local area (generally because they can't afford to live closer) and trying to force them into public transport, no matter how inconvenient, time consuming and costly it is. I work at the hospital and this scheme is will add to staffing issues as you make it more & more difficult for people to work in the area.

You have targeted hospital workers who park around the hospital, and will simply shift the problem further away. Also many hospital appointments take longer than 120 minutes and your plan will only add to the stress of already unwell people

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

Reducing car emissions needs to be done but not at the cost of older people, our already disenfranchised and our students. Our diversity has been our appeal and our strength now council wants us to be only for the able-bodied (not everyone with mobility issues is disabled) young and well off. Council does not seem to understand the meaning of diverse and inclusive communities.

Newtown east

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

Very likely

Why did you select that answer?

We have an old garage which my partner uses to park his scooter (along with others in the street) however it is too small to park any type of car and we don't have the finances available to be able to fix it and as it also acts as retaining wall we also cannot pull it down to use an off street car pad. Perhaps council could pay for this.

While I support the decrease in car use as an older woman (without a disability) but whose mobility is becoming more difficult I feel this policy supports only the mobile and well off. It's not inclusive, doesn't meet the requirements for universal design and will make life incredibly difficult for a lot of residents. Also what does off street parking mean? Many of the garages attached to older homes were not built to house even the smallest of cars. Many of these are in bad shape and the cost of rebuilding is enormous for most of us. Again it feels like council are only interested in a certain type of resident and certainly if you a superannuant, are out of work or a student and can't ride a bike or walk for any distance (or need your car to work) then you are being disposed of. Many of the people/families have lived in this area their entire lives and they being pushed out by a council intent on supporting you only if you are young, able-bodied and well off.

Interesting that yet again Newtown is being singled out - why not the wealthier suburbs of Island Bay etc. I know it is closer to the city but we have been a beacon of social cohesion for many years with a real diversity of people. Maybe the lack of the wealth is a factor yet again in meddling with our community.

I think the parking P120 8am to 8pm should be limited to Monday - Friday. There is often sufficient parking on weekends due to less hospital space using spaces.

Restricting the car parks makes an enormous amount of sense. However, a more sophisticated allocation mechanism should be used. Otherwise, you are just giving away this great asset to those lucky enough to own the houses. You should price it in. The cost of the permits should be significantly more. You want to encourage people to actually use the enormous amount of off street parking available in Newtown (their garages are currently full of stuff and used as storage and extra rooms). Some people currently even use road vehicles as additional storage on arterial routes. It is honestly crazy. This is a courageous proposal - well done.

I would recommend going even further. P120 is more than enough. Perhaps P60 around the central shopping area. All parking should be completely removed on the major arterial roads. Parallel parking holds up traffic and it makes the whole place look terrible. It would really improve the look of the whole place if the parking was removed. Planter boxes, outdoor spaces for eateries, etc.

This is crazy! There are already not enough parking spaces for patients OR staff at Wellington Hospital, and so have to resort to parking on the street. This is going to have even more of an impact on those gaining access to the care they need. And we already have enough issues with hospital staff retention without more parking and transport links to add to their woes! There is not the bus link infrastructure to support losing all these available on-street parking.

I support this plan but the WCC needs to work with the hospital to make sure that there is a realistic and affordable parking option for people working at the hospital. It should at the very least be parking provided for those working night shifts (you can't get a bus at 5am or 11pm). That way people who can't access public transport have some parking provisions.

There are zero unrestricted parks in the proposed changes where I park. My situation is I am a cyclist but I drive my children and bike to day care. I park on the street for the day and ride to the CBD. The new parking scheme would make this impossible so the alternative is that I'm adding another car to the CBD traffic which is doing the exact opposite of what you want to achieve by incentivising green transport options. If you are going to introduce parking restrictions, I believe there should be a mixture of parks instead of making everything P120+resident parks.

There are zero unrestricted parks in the proposed changes. My situation is I am a cyclist but I drive my children and bike to day care. Park on the street for the day and ride to the CBD. The new parking scheme would make this impossible so the alternative is that I'm adding another car to the CBD traffic which is doing the exact opposite of what you want to achieve by incentivising green transport options.

I really don't think it's right that you can only apply for 2 permits per household. Especially with the cost of living crisis, I know of so many flats in Newtown that have more than 2 adults living in it that NEED to drive to work. Our flat for example has a midwife, vet nurse and medical chemist that work far away or hours that don't provide public transport. How do you expect our city to have these services that provide directly to our people if you are making it impossible for them to live a normal life? I would love to hear feedback about what you are suppose to do in that situation.

I do think having some parking restrictions are fine, but there are so many hospital staff who don't have a designated park at work, which means this will only result in more pressure on our already overcrowded health system.

I live on the other side of town and use this area for sports event very rarely. I have tried to use public transport to access the area, however, I cannot get to games on time without leaving almost 2 hours before games. I also have no viable public transportation options home. Buses are also not reliable for times, either being late, or cancelled. This causes stress and not worth my time, money (bus) or effort to support the local areas here for recreational reasons.

Because the WCC is a disgrace. You have butchered our streets, with a dictatorship approach. People have lost their businesses to stupid cycle lanes NOBODY USES!. There is blood on your hands for the depression and anxiety you have destroyed of people's mental health. I don't know how those behind the cycle lane can sleep at night. You should all be absolutely ashamed of yourselves. Now you plan to butcher our neighbours. No wonder people are moving out of Wellington, congratulations in destroying what was one a wonderful city.

$18 a day is quite steep. Also, people who work at the hospital often need to park their car, and the hospital doesn't have enough parking. Patients also can end up spending more than 2 hours due to delays and things so even though they planned to spend less, they would end up staying too long. Inevitably, I think this will happen regardless of whatever feedback we give. That's how this council works. However, as a hospital worker (and to be clear, I mainly bike or use the bus to work) I see the effect this will have on my colleagues who don't have the option to bike/walk/use public transport and particularly on those workers in the main hospital who work shift patterns and often long hours. Before these changes actually happen the council and the hospital really need to sit down to work out how to support hospital workers who have to drive and park in the area.

All of these areas are used by hospital workers to park during their shifts. The hospital does not provide adequate, affordable parking for it's staff, which forces people onto the surrounding streets. Parking on Alexandra road has also been time limited, making more staff forced to park on the streets. While I understand that the area will grow and this needs to be managed, the fact of the matter is that there is a hospital in the area that employs several thousand staff, all of whom already face difficulties getting to work. This will only add to the problem. Before you start to impose further parking restrictions, you surely have a duty to work with the hospital to find sustainable parking for staff who cannot or do not have the option of public transport, biking or walking. As two government agencies you should be working together to support these people and help people keep their jobs.

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Strongly oppose

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

Your current states around who supports this scheme are skewed. This scheme sounds like a entitled upper middle class plan to push the lower class out of the community. I don't understand why there are restrictions on streets throughout Berhampore where majority of the houses are working man cottages that have no off street parking, or are flats or townhouses which also don't have off street parking. A lot of residents in this area are on a lower income or have health and/or mobility issues. Making them pay for parking is wrong! Making it harder for people who visit these people to support them is wrong!

I visit my mother in Berhampore 1-2 times a week and spend around 24-48 hours there so I can look after her. Putting in parking restrictions will heavily impact my family,Äôs ability to look after her. This is a human rights issue! I will take this to court.

Many other Wellington residents access Newtown in particular to do their shopping, e.g. the Saturday fruit and veg market at the school. If residents have permits plus they get a large number of free parking vouchers for visitors it will still block up a large number of parks for those who also use the area. I support permits for residents only and no free parking vouchers for their visitors.

I am strongly concerned at the limited permits per household and that groups 6 upwards will be strongly affected - flatting situations with four or more tenants with not off street parking - many flats bump the numbers up to afford living - with limited permits where do all these people park there cars - all it will do is push cars further outside the zone. thus affecting others

This is a major issue for those who work at the hospital and do not have the option of taking public transport or using cycle lanes safely to get to work. This may be because they live away from a train or bus route, and even if they do live on these routes, public transport may not run at hours that allow staff to get to and from work on time for their shifts, which start well before and after conventional working hours. Already hospital staff are walking around late at night after long shifts to get to their vehicles. The hospital does not provide enough parking to its staff (the waiting list is years long) so for most this is not an option. Taking the option of parking on surrounding streets away will discourage staff from continuing to work in a hospital and a health system that desperately needs them to stay.

Slightly more unrestricted parking may be helpful, we have a lot of rentals in the neighbourhood and multiple residents will mean many visitors. 50 permits could go quite quickly in a shared house

The fact you could lose your parking permit and effectively lose the ability to own a car during the renewal process each year is an unacceptable level of unpredictability. Additionally the reduction of prioritisation for residents who have a curb-cut that is currently unusable and unenforced is unfair. If a curb-cut does not provide a practical off-street parking spot and is currently unenforced, it should be possible to have that excluded from the prioritisation or have the curb cut removed by the council.

Discussion needs to be made with the hospital because shift workers (mainly RNs) can't park on hospital ground many have applied for a permit and have been denied and even when paying full general public price still get ticketed. Therefore if we can't park in Newtown where are you meant to park as there are not safe reliable and frequent public services options. This year there was a convicted sex offender actively pursuing nurses (the often even stated this )no support was provided now the little parking which was available may be taken away. 100 percent residents should have parking but so should staff. Parliament workers get taxi and safe transport when doing unsocial hours so thought needs to be put in as to how to do the same for hospital workers. Resident parking should be provided but not at the cost of hospital workers safety. They need somewhere to park is the hospital wont allow it on their grounds

Kia ora, overall I think it is a good idea to introduce a parking scheme for this area and I support the councils focus on improving public transport. I am supportive of the resident permits being prioritised for particular groups, particularly those with mobility needs however I am concerned about anyone with a garage being considered to have an off street park. I have a garage which was built in the 1950's and cannot fit a suzuki swift. The cost quoted to rebuild this garage in a bigger size is enormous and frankly unaffordable for us. We currently use it to store our bikes. My household has 1 car and mostly gets around by bike and walking however I am about to have a baby and am very concerned that I won't be able to get a residents park as we will be counted as one of the lowest priority groups even though in reality I do not have access to an off-street carpark. Being able to park my car near to my house with a baby is important for me. Would the council please reconsider it's categorisation of all 'garages' as off-street parks and consider whether people with young children are also priority groups. In order to increase the pool of permits available you could also limit the number to 1 per household.

I think the hospital need to address their parking facilities and approach to staff as this is the greatest cause of parking disruption in the vicinity. Restricting others parking in the area due to this would be extremely inconvenient.

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

The number of residents parking permits should not be capped or allocated per household, because this disadvantages younger and lower income individuals who are more likely to be living in flatting situations with multiple other unrelated adults. Modern policy and urban and residential planning and development should acknowledge this reality and should be designed to ensure that current inequities are not deepened or further entrenched. The allocation as designed further deepens inequities between homeowners and renters. Residential parking permits should be capped or allocated per adult, rather than per household.

I think the two-car limit as currently proposed disadvantages renters and advantages homeowners; which will disadvantage younger and lower income people and advantage middle class and wealthier people who are more likely to own the home they live in and live alone or with family. I do not support this. The disadvantage is that many people who are lower income are forced to rent with other adults; many flats like this have more than two people who own their own cars and rely on them for work, commuting or daily living. People in these living styles will be restricted and disadvantaged by not being able to park near their home, while those who own their home and are more likely to have one or two cars per household and will not be affected. Renters are already disadvantaged when compared to homeowners in a variety of ways, and I think adding further disadvantage is unjust. Permit numbers should be restricted based on cars per adult, not cars per household. For example one parking permit per adult or one car per cohabitating couple. A limit of two cars per household is not appropriate for the modern day reality where increasing numbers of young adults are living with multiple unrelated adults in one house.

Riddiford street is already so narrow with cars parked at both side of the road which is just not because of hospital staff trying to find free parking considering the hours they work, but also residence who don't have a carpark or have more than one car. Although you can park at Countdown it is also restriced parking. If hospital staff were allowed to park there it will take away business for Countdown and the other shops due to the number of hospital staff that would want to park there.

Implementing restrictions does not prevent streets from grinding to a halt. With Wellington taking more and more car parks away throughout the city, and not finding alternatives, how would you expect us to support something that gives us car owners even more restrictions. Cars have its benefits and only so much can be done to encourage people to use public transport. I do support the use of public transport but we still need cars for various scenarios. A space for communal parking (a land or car park block) for residences and visitors could be a way to stop street parking as it is a designated place for cars to be.

The restrictions wouldn't solve the current congestion issues, it will only fuel more given the fact we are already currently fighting for limited car parks with others. Given the current economy as well, this will add one more level of stress for people struggling financially.

I don't wanna pay for off street parking. Cost of living is already high. There are no businesses in this area, it's all residential and this seems like an excuse to rip us off!! I already struggle with costs as it is so living in an area with free unrestricted parking helps. Currently my street is already busy with a mix of residents cars and those that work for a few hours in the area, so the removal of parks for the transport changes will likely make it even harder to guarantee a spot to park.

Me and my flatmate both have cars. Currently she is fine to park on the street while I use the garage. We will need to renegotiate when the parking scheme is introduced. Obviously the parking policy needs a revamp. On my street there is often no parks at all. However I believe the current approach will create The parking policy on vehicles per household doesn't account for shared flatting situations. If I move into a flat where two flatmates already have cars with permits, I would be ineligible for a permit. However I would still need a car for work. Meanwhile someone living alone could have two cars with permits. Permits should be per single adult resident or de facto couple, that would be fairer as currently you can be excluded just for having flatmates with cars that you cannot use or benefit from. I understand a need for a limited number of permits. However instead, you could offer the permits for each month, at a price set so that the right number are sold, and offer them to anyone. This is simpler and could generate revenue the council desperately needs. Only applying the restrictions from 8am to 8pm is also silly. The time when it is hardest to find a park is late at night. So this would not solve that issue.

As home owners we don't pay for the parking outside of our homes so why are these permits being allowed for residents when they too can walk to an unrestricted area to park like other people have to. Or with living so close to the city maybe they do away with their cars and use a bike or public transport which is what you are encouraging people to do. Removing the parks outside of the hospital has severely impacted those with disabilities to get to appointments and very limited car parking in the hospital car park. You are hindering thousand of people for not even 100 people to bike in and out of the city. Please do the maths on what this is costing per person capita cycling and using these cycleways all year round. The maddening thing is you ask for feedback but you have already made the decision because those in the big chairs around the council table want this to happen. For someone that pays $120 each week in rates I get very little in return with many water leaks in and around our home, a street frontage that I have to maintain, I can't get a park outside of my home due to new businesses being allowed to set up and not provide parking for their workers. I am a biker but I know and understand the risks so bike in a way that I manage these risks without expected the WCC to manage it for me.

The need for a suburb wide parking scheme has not been adequately demonstrated, and because it parallels a scheme that is designed to make it harder to drive and harder to use a car, it is difficult to trust that this Council actually cares at all about people who work and live in these areas, who use cars.

Oppose the proposal because it parallels removal of multiple car parks that will put pressure on the scheme. Your weighting of evaluation primarily based on impact on emissions is fundamentally flawed.

I have no other choice but to apply for the scheme - you think that removing 100 parks from a street that is already impossible to park on is the right decision? There is no other options to park, all side streets are already congested. Adding a bike lane is a waste of resources. My rates have gone up by almost $900 per year, and I still have to then pay for two resident cards on top? How is this right?

You should make 1 permit free for all residents- most houses on Rintoul street do not have off street parks available so you are forcing them to buy your resident parks- you raise rates again and expect us to pay more still. Why do we live in this city? Can move to Christchurch and not have to pay for parking outside my house, most of Auckland suburbs are the same

Yet another terrible idea from money hungry WCC. Instead of making our public transport infrastructure actually reliable and affordable they decide to just alienate people with cars. You removed a whole lot of free patient carparks at the front of the hospital for your bike lanes and now you want to make it even harder for hospital staff. Everyone saying "why don't you just park in the hospital provided parking" - well I was on the waitlist for 2 years before I could get a permit and Carepark continue to raise the prices that it is currently $7.50 A DAY to park just to go to work. We already have a staffing crisis here at the hospital and to be honest, if you make it harder for staff they're just going to leave. WCC is ridiculous.

WCC building regs don't require car parks to be built in 6 storey buildings. We have many suburbs already with building with no car parks yet we give them priority parking on the road. Why? If you don't have off street parking then you should pay say $20 a day to park on the road. This will remove congestion and increase WCC revenue.

WCC building regs allowing 6 storey building with no car parks. Why is there any resident parking at all? Surely we want the roads to drive on, not park. A daily parking charge for any street parking will get people to us public transport. If residence can park in P120 spaces all the time why would they use the residence parking areas? There will be no short term parking available.

If I was a resident why use a residents parking space rather than a P120? This will fail as there are too many cars. The road is not a parking bay.

Concerned that unrestricted areas will become a magnet for people parking e.g. caravans, boats, camper vans long term. This affects me (east side of Seddon Terrace). I would strongly prefer all of seddon terrace to be restricted.

This is ridiculous, I live in the Hutt Valley in an area where I cannot catch public transport unless I take a train and two buses which would take me more than twice as long as it does to drive in. Where am I supposed to park? I currently park on the street and walk to work in Newtown. This would make it impossible for me to get to work Seriously disadvantages hospital staff, who contribute to the Newtown, Beramphore , & local Wellington economy. Staff use car for travel as existing public transport is too slow, inadequate capacity, & unreliable. Travel by public transport would triple the travelling time, not allowing for proper rest period outside of work for staff, who make clinical decisions which impact on patient safety. Using public transport to travel between Wellington/Porirua and Hutt Valley hospitals within a working day would reduce the time available to provide care or clinical services (some of the hospital staff will need to visit all sites within a working day, could spend longer travelling than working, which is a waste of scarce health resources). Staff who rely on public transport need to trust that it will turn up as timetabled, otherwise they won't get to work on time, & won't be able to provide patient care, or see patients. Problems with transport and parking are some of the factors which when added to the high costs of living in Wellington are making it less attractive to retain or attract staff. Many people are put off coming to Wellington for work, due to the aforementioned issues.

I think the scheme is necessary and it is well-designed. However, I think the hospital and council need to find a solution for hospital staff parking before the scheme is implemented. Doctors and nurses work long shifts and anti-social hours, many work at multiple hospitals (e.g., Lower Hutt or Kenepuru) on the same day, or have on-call commitments. If they are delayed, it can affect other staff and numerous patients. We can't expect all these people to take buses or cycle - in many cases buses simply aren't running when shifts start or finish. Of all the workers in Wellington, these are probably the ones for whom driving to work is most necessary.

I think 8-6 would be a better time limit - there is little parking pressure between 6pm and 8pm and it would give residents more flexibility. Regarding the prioritisation of residents, categories 6a and 6b, I think these should be extended to all such homes, not just flat shares. If there is a need for two adults to own use two cars, then that need doesn't change based on whether those two adults are in a single family or a flat share, if anything a single family are likely to have a higher need due to children.

The boundaries of the scheme seem mostly good, however, I would like to see them extended to include the area around the zoo, the end of Owen St, and some of Manchester St. These areas get very difficult to park in on specific days (during summer, when the zoo has a promotion, etc). With the new development at 175 Owen St, and the redevelopment of the bowling club, I expect this to get worse. Having the scheme boundary here will create even more pressure.

Newtown has 138 mobility permit holders and Berhampore 86. This area of the city has a Hospital, medical practises, laboratories and other medical services that are regularly used by people with limited mobility. With increasing growth in the aging population the demand for mobility parking spaces will increase. The current number of mobility car parks in this area is not sufficient for the high demand. There will always be a number of people with disability for whom a private vehicle is the only available transport.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5OiHZL03wJo> As this is the first roll out in the city, installation of additional mobility car parks should be cosidered.

The P120 don't consider staff who work at the hospital. For MANY staff the public transport system isn't an option eg those who live and travel a long way to get to work, those with children who have set times that the child has to be collected, those who work shift work.

I live in a 6 bedroom shared dwelling on Rintoul Street and each of us have vehicles - at the moment, we are able to manage finding parks on street, however if resident permits are involved it is more than likely we won't be able to receive permits for everyone and it also adds another cost to everyday living which is already expensive. I don't agree with this whatsoever.

This is one of the stupidest ideas Wellington Council has had in a long time. This one directly affects Wellington residents negatively. Living in Newtown, parking by your house is a luxury on its own- but now you want to make it 100x harder? Ridiculous. Who ever has taken this proposition this far has no consideration for the actual residents. I would love to know who was in charge of this so I can be sure to not vote for them next election.

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Support

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

Overall I support the parking scheme. However I feel the council requirements on new multi-dwelling properties needs to be amended at the same time. The multi-dwelling properties are the primary cause of the parking issues. Credible alternatives to cars are not available. I live in the 16 Constable st apartments, most of those apartments were built after Aug 2020. I tried riding a push bike, but it rusted because of inadequate storage. Two e-bikes were stolen from other residents within the first year. I tried riding a gas motor scooter but the wind kept blowing it over and it eventually was too damaged to ride. There was no place in the apartment complex for me to charge electric versions of those car alternatives. I had planned to sell my car when I moved to the apartments but have kept it because these alternatives have not worked. I have since sold it but this means I am at the mercy of buses or expensive taxi's and car shares. This means I cannot explore easily as much of the city as I could previously. Most people cannot carry an e-bike up a 3rd story walk-up. I applaud the density initiatives. I applaud building apartments without parking because I do agree we should reduce the cars on the road. It's my feeling that its unethical to build more density without requiring property developers to supply safe adequate bike, motorcycle/scooter storage. By adequate I mean locked, fully enclosed structures that keep bikes / motorcycles / larger heavier electric scooters etc safe from being stolen, from being exposed to the elements and provide electric charging capability. There must be enough space in these bike enclosures for all the residents to have a space. ie. a 3 bedroom apartment would be allocated 3 spaces, 2 bedrooms 2 spaces or some calculation that made sure residents who wanted space could get space within a reasonable time-frame. Wellington City Council currently allows developers to build 50+, 2 bedroom walk-up apartments, bolt 20 metal uprights under a stairwell that offers no protection from theft or the elements (rain runoff being the worst because of the rust damage to bikes and scooters), hand up a few flimsy bike bags and call that 'bike storage'. This leaves residents, like myself, with only one viable transport option, the Wellington City buses. Although the routes in Newtown are good. This is not adequate. It's great to have bike paths but only if you have the ability to have a bike. Alternatively, the city will hopefully consider building enclosed storage for car alternatives with electric charging capability that could be rented on a monthly basis by residents in these multi-dwelling units. Those units putting pressure on the parking were and continue to be consented by the council. They do not deliver parking or adequate bike (or car alternative) storage solutions.

I live in Kapiti and commute to Wellington for my job based at Ewart in Coromandel Street. I had to move to Kapiti for affordable housing. Subsequently the price of petrol has doubled; mortgage payments have risen substantially, along with everything else. It is currently a one hour commute each way. It costs me $100 per week to get to and from work just for petrol, and doesn't include running costs on the car, that's 10% of my take home salary. WCC doesn't want me to use my car. So with public transport - that's 1.5 hour commute each way, 3 hours per day in addition to an 8-hour working day. 11 hours per day is hardly a good work/life balance. A 30-day rail pass is $331; in addition I would spend $6 per day to get from the train station to the hospital which is $30 per week; which totals $96 per week and an extra 5 hours commute time, using public transport. Currently I can use free street parking. If I want to limit my commute to 2-hours per day and drive; WCC will be expecting me to pay for parking in addition, or park far from the hospital and spend more time and money getting a bus, so now I will be spending $130 - 150 per week in order to work at the Wellington Hospital campus. That means I can't afford to put food on the table. I am a tertiary qualified health professional, and I will not be able to afford to work in Wellington the way things are going. This will be the absolute last straw. WCC will make working at the Wellington Campus unaffordable, who will look after the patients? I am not the only one in this situation. There are many, many workers who commute to Wellington to keep this campus running. WCC need to know that workers will be squeezed out of Wellington employment. It is not practical for everyone to walk or ride or take a bus that may or may not arrive.

Majority of the issues with parking around the Newtown area seem to mainly be due to hospital workers having very limited options for parking. I walk/bus where I can, as do a lot of people that are able to, but those that travel from further out, have very little options for reliably commuting to & from the hospital on a daily basis. If there was a much more reliable and frequent public transport system in place, then I would be much more supportive of the parking restrictions.

If you have any comments about the locations of the P120 (resident permit exempt) parking or the scheme and zone boundaries, please provide them here.

Too many P120 parking spaces to displace the number of people that would have to use the quite unreliable and infrequent public transport. Improve the public transport first, especially from the northern suburbs to the hospital.

Worry is that I sometimes use the area for Heath appointments that unfortunately run late. I am able and can walk, which is needed with loss of spaces by hospital, and their car park which is always full. However, the two hour limit might be a problem in this situation. Other times I have to wait for children,Ãs activities which sometimes might be more than two hours. Close to three, including the walk. Would be helpful to have 3-4 hour limit low-fee paid parking in the areas closer to the hospital.

This is a slap in the face to hospital staff and others who work in the Newtown area who are currently unable to access parking at work. The priority should be on increasing overall parking available not on restricting spaces that are already being used by residents, visitors and staff alike.

Why did you select that answer?

I live in a shared flat, we all have jobs and need vehicles to get to these jobs. If we weren,Äôt able to park on our street we would have to move. With the current housing market this is unattainable and would result in most of us having to relocate. We live on Owen street, finding parking already is a struggle- considering a majority of the streets is student/shared flats

I think it is absolutely ridiculous. I am enraged this is even being proposed, people live here- we should not have to pay for the right to park by our home. I don't think I have to words to describe how mad I am, the amount of students in this area (including myself) who are struggling to even stay afloat financially are now expected to pay even more? Disgusting.

I think I have made my thoughts very clear. It's an absolutely ridiculous proposal. This is messing with people's livelihoods. If it goes ahead, people are going to have to relocate including myself if permits aren't given to everyone in the household. From reading this, I can't see any benefits instead burdens for the current residents

As a Nurse who drove to work @ Wgtn Hosp for afternoon (finishing at 1130pm) and night shifts (starting at 11pm), I find the proposed changes deeply disturbing. I completely understand the intent of the changes and appreciate the need for resident parking. To make these changes at a cost to the safety of the mostly female workforce of the hospital is irresponsible. Why is WCC not working with Te Whatu Ora to plan for and implement a solution that takes the safety and welfare of hospital staff into consideration? Public transport is unreliable and infrequent in Newtown and the number of dodgy men lurking in the shadows feels disproportionately high!

The scheme should allow for any member of a household that has a car/motorbike to park it outside their house. It should not be restricted to two allocations per household, especially in a suburb where there are a lot of renters. The Hospital needs to cater better to its workforce with regard to parking and then a lot of the pressure on parks would be relieved. The scheme is also expensive for low waged car owners.

Concerned that the residents parking permits are restricted to two per household, everyone who lives in a house should be able to park outside. The pressure on Newtown parking comes from hospital staff who are not catered for by the hospital. The hospital should make free or affordable parking available for its workers. This would go a long way to solving the problem of parking in Newtown. In addition, the inability of a BnB or accommodation facility to have access to a carpark is not good. Much of this accommodation is probably used by patient's relatives visiting the hospital.

one size fits all is not appropriate. Just as stupid as the 30km speed limit across all of Wellington with few exemptions. Also, fix the pipes under the roads and cycleways before they are built instead of building them and then digging them up again to fix the pipes. Moronic planning of our infrastructure.

25 days is not enough. It penalises home owners who invested in off street parking. There is no correlation between owners of off street parking an on street parking regard the number on visitors for both. Jut because you have off street parking doesn't mean you get less visitors.

i suspect that a lot of this is due to the staff parking at wellington hospital over doubling in cost and reducing the numbers of staff parks available. Also with public transport doubling back to normal cost it makes less sense to take this if car pooling and happy to walk 5-10mins into work. It is very challenging when there is not a direct bus route to your place of work or would take over an hour on public transport but less than 25mins by car especially when car pooling.

This covers nearly all of the area where hospital workers park. It is hard enough already to get a park within 1 km of the hospital without moving the area further out.

Why half as many for dwellings with off street parking? These passes are for visitors, thus dwellings with off street parking would require them just as often as those with. Our garage has yellow lines painted on kerbside in front, so even though we could have no issue with a visitor parking there they would run the risk of incurring a fine.

Overall, it is only fair for the residents in these areas, and also for accessibility to the hospital. Perhaps it would be beneficial for the council to be an advocate for the hospital to review its parking policies towards its student population.

Kia ora, I am a final year Physiotherapy student, who similar to Nurses, Occupational Therapists, Medical students, Pharmacy students, and many more student professions are not allocated or allowed to use the hospital staff parking, even though we work 40 hour weeks at the hospital for an entire year. As we are working 40 hour weeks and only receive $300 per week to live, parking is really not something which is permitted into the budget as well. As such public transport is ideal and is the majority of students preferred method of transportation. However I am aware that a few students rely on taking cars to the hospital due to having to pick family up after work, through to needing to go to their other job quickly after work at the hospital. As such I would like to advocate on their behalf for a special exception status to be extended to include these students who already struggle to make do with the limited resources they are given. Overall I am in favour of allowing residents to have more parking near their houses, it is only fair and I am fully aware of the extent of the issue for them as all of the carparks in Newtown are gone by 8am and don't become free again until 3-4pm which can be very difficult for them.

A lot of houses have off street parking near the hospital area, so it would be good to make sure these off street parks are being utilised by the houses that have them available before the on street parks.

Female Health workers like me who work shift work in hospital or Afterhours but Dont live locally ,need free close on street parking . The hospital has very few parks for staff . Also sick patients &amp; their families going to clinics or the wards need free accessible parking . The hospital charges too much for parking . This is health inequality esp affecting low income MfÅori or Pacifica . The health system is under severe stress . Staff will leave Wgtn more frequently if they cannot get free close parking . Newtown streets are dangerous at night and women don,Äôt feel safe walking a long way to their cars of waiting for a long time alone at dark bus stops .

If P120 goes ahead it will put a lot more pressure on the hospital carpark (both staff and patients) as more staff will want to get a staff parking permit. As there won't be enough parking at the hospital, a lot of people who fail to get a permit for staff parking will park in the patient parking area (this already happens as it does not cost much more for patient parking than staff parking)

$18 is far too expensive! 8pm is far too late (most shops shut at 5 or 5:30pm). I could easily spend 3+ hours at the zoo or shopping and having lunch in Newtown. People in 4 bedroom flats could have 4 cars to park.

If you have any comments about the locations of the P120 (resident permit exempt) parking or the scheme and zone boundaries, please provide them here.

If P120 goes ahead it will put a lot more pressure on the hospital carpark (both staff and patients) as more staff will want to get a staff parking permit. As there won't be enough parking at the hospital, a lot of people who fail to get a permit for staff parking will park in the patient parking area (this already happens as it does not cost much more for patient parking than staff parking)

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Strongly oppose

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

1. I am strongly opposed to permit parking system being introduced into Newtown and Berhampore, especially during a cost of living crisis. It is yet another cost and added stress for households to bear in Newtown and Berhampore. 2. If this proposal does go ahead, I think the first parking permit applied for by residents who are ratepayers should be free. Put another way, the first parking permit applied for by a ratepayer should be viewed as one of the services we pay for in our annual rates bill, and therefore complimentary. We have had steady rates rises recently and adding the cost of a parking permit would be yet another increase on our rates bills, and another burden to absorb in a cost of living crisis. Moreover, this increased cost would only apply to residence in Newtown and Berhampore. For this reason, please consider making the first parking permit free for ratepayers in the affected suburbs. I am sure such an amendment would make this proposal more palatable for residents. 3. I think this proposal will negatively impact hospital workers. I think WCC and/or Te Whatu Ora need to provided a lot more FREE parking for hospital staff that is both safe and easily accessible. I think this proposal is going make things more challenging for the majority hospital staff.

1. If this proposal goes ahead, I think raising the free parking time from 120 minutes to 180 minutes or having a mixture of 120 and 180 minute limits would improve the proposal. I also think have the enforcement time reduced from 8am-8pm to 8am-6pm would make it more workable.
2. If this proposal goes ahead, I think the boundary should be restricted the streets immediately adjacent to the hospital. That is, stop south of Constable Street, stop east of the part of Coromandel Street, stop west of Hanson Street and stop north of Drummond Street. Note - I am strongly opposed to the proposal as a whole.

I generally support the prioritisation but I don't think anyone with more than one off-street parking space should be given a permit. I think people who have one off-street parking space should be allowed one fewer on-street parking space. In general I think we should work towards getting rid of on-street parking on any streets with through traffic as soon as possible, and all streets eventually.

With all the parking on the side streets, there shouldn't be any need to retain parking on Rintoul St, which would allow for proper cycle paths on both sides, and make the street much safer and travel through it much more efficient.

I think it is important to recognise that there are some other groups that require easy and fast access to their vehicles such as Health Care providers who may be required to return to the hospital rapidly and at odd hours (overnight), there should also be prioritisation for those who fit this criteria.

I am disappointed to see the cul de sac end of Stanley St largely left out of this plan. This end of Stanley St is already used by residents from many surrounding streets to park their vehicles overnight and long term (some staying parked for weeks). With the introduction of restrictions in surrounding areas the number of people trying to park in non-designated areas will increase, likely making it more difficult for those living in this part of Stanley St. Currently the only resident parking indicated is at the South end of the cul de sac outside number 17 bordering Britomart St. The houses that have a need for residents parking, pre-1930 build with no off-street access are at numbers 4-8 and some houses opposite. There are also multiple households on this street that have more than 2 cars so will likely apply for multiple passes. I would like to see the Stanley St residents parking moved in to the area around these houses and extended to ensure that cars that are pushed in to parking in this area due to restrictions in other streets do not affect the ability of these residents to find a park.

the council has ruined the roads around Wellington by removing all the parking making them lose millions in revenue each year. you can't then move it out of the main city into the suburbs and ruin them too to find the lost revenue. it's killing the city

Where I park would be directly effected by the proposal and I support it - even if it means we have to reduce the number of cars our house owns. I already mainly walk or use public transport and would like that to be easier.

As a resident on the middle 'dead-end' section of Te Wharepouri Street which has very limited parking as it is, and our proximity to Rintoul St which will be losing so many parks, I am nervous that the scheme is actually going to drive those unable to park on Rintoul into our street and put more pressure on the parking, which doesn't seem very fair to those who live on the street. I also believe that the Council need to reinstate the requirement that housing developments MUST include off street parking.

We have a 1900s home with no off street parking. We also live on the small, dead section of Te Wharepouri Street which would be P120.

As a young family with a single car that we can't really live without (visiting older family in areas outside of Wellington not served by Public Transport, back-to-back appointments/events sometimes, etc), we'll need somewhere where we can park our vehicle similar to how we currently have a Resident's Permit.

I believe there should be a very strong reason for any residential dwelling to have more than 1 permit per house if we are trying to reduce car usage. I also believe that dwellings that have off-street parking should not be eligible to obtain an exemption as they have guaranteed parking at the expense of their driveways removing 1 street park per off-street space. Other than this, I like the idea of applying for guest exemptions (capped) as we often have parents visiting us for a few days at a time from out of town.

I think this parking scheme has not been thought about with the residents of Berhampore and Newtown in mind. It is not the on-street parking that needs to be fixed, it's the lack of parking at the hospital, which has caused problems for years on end. We, the residents of Newtown and Berhampore, should not have to pay for parking at our own homes when the cost of living (kai, rates, rent) are constantly increasing! Just another way that WCC is taking hardworking residents money. Daylight robbery bruh Not everyone is able to cycle or catch public transport such as my grandparents and many of our elderly neighbours!

We, the residents of Newtown and Berhampore, should not have to pay for parking at our own homes when the cost of living is ever-increasing! Just another way that WCC is taking hardworking residents money. Think about the houses with elderly living in them whom require external assistance (such as mine and my neighbours households). Think about the hospital staff who have to travel and work long hours, who now have to pay for parking to go to work. The consultations that you have had with the small groups don't reflect the opinions of the residents of Berhampore and Newtown.

I don't think that any of the residents in the area should have to pay to park outside of their own dwellings, due to the lack of action from the Wellington Regional Hospital and the WCC in creating a larger scale parking facility at the hospital.

Many people are flatting in this area, resulting in every household having more than one car. Majority of the on-street car-parks are usually occupied by these residents. Now they will have to bear an additional cost every year. The current scheme of prioritization might be unfair to them. Also, it might be better to give away one free parking permit to each household.

Berhampore zone

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

Very likely

Why did you select that answer?

While I am contemplating getting rid of our car and using car sharing instead, I haven't planned it yet and therefore will need to apply for a permit in the short to medium term

If you live in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for one or more visitor day passes if the scheme is introduced?

Very unlikely

If you live in the area, how many vehicles are owned by people in your home?

Adding P120 time limit spaces that everyone can use. Residents with a permit would be able to stay as long as needed.

Only people who live in the area being able to apply and pay for an annual exemption permit.

The P120 (resident permit exempt) restrictions applying between 8am and 8pm.

I don't agree to the payment of parking along Rintoul St. With the bike lane taking away 50% of free available parking I now have to pay for parking because of this.

Because I have not choice. 50% of the parking will taken for bike lane. I'm a midwife so my hours of work are irregular. I want to be safe when coming home and paking many kms away from my house doesn't feel safe in the middle of the night

Not only have the bike lane taken away 50% of the free parking available why do I now have to pay for my car parked on the road because of bike lanes. I don't understand why there's a 2 hour payment for non residents. Just make resident parking only

Reliable, safe, rapid and constant public transport is essential so this works for those unable to bike or scoot. Some areas could be P180 parking for extended classes/appointments, and 7pm end time would better support local dining businesses. I also feel for hospital staff without easy access to work: responsibility should be on Hospitals to provide solutions - shuttle transport, onsite parking, minimal fees. I welcome changes to support walking - but also know Wellington is a hilly city, knees & hips don't last for life in an aging society & disabilities are increasing, so until public transport and healthcare are perfect car use will still unfortunately be needed Clara, Newtown

We should not enforce parking permits on people that may leave people that need a parking space without one, cost us more money and time dealing with the admin. We should encourage having less cars by improving public transport (we have too many canceled buses) and carrying in the good work with bike lanes. We shouldn't make it more difficult for people to access their cars if they need one to live their lives. It seems to me we're developing our inner cities without asking developers to provide off-street parking. I believe there are other ways we can relieve car park pressure without imposing more cost, admin and stress trying to find a park if you have no permit. eg. we could change angled carparks on non-arterial roads (side roads) instead of parallel one. We could require developments to include off street parking where possible. Provide options for people that get permits declined if we go down that track.

Do you own or use a car/van/ute, and park it, in the Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme area?

Yes

If you park in the parking scheme area, what parking do you have access to and/or use most of the time?

Newtown east

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

Very likely

Why did you select that answer?

We are a flat that has 5 individuals in it. We operate differently to a family where they share ownership over cars, most people in the flat have their own car. The intercity transport is not good enough to get to specific areas without a car eg. Going to Pak n Sav, sport out of town or just going out of wellington so we need every parking space for each person that has a car. It's pretty hard for a flatmate to be reliant on someone else because they can't get a vehicle permit.

If you have any comments to make about the restrictions and eligibility of the resident exemption permits, please share them here.

I dont see a win for a lot of people living in Newtown including us. All I see is us paying more money for permits, paying for more fines for parking wardens and struggling to find a park somewhere close if we can't get a permit. I think charging for the permits is out of touch with the cost of living issues and the Newtown being one of the poorer suburbs. He reason we are getting more pressure on parking is because developers are building up without providing on street parking. There are also other ways to relieve the pressure - making more parks on non-arterial roads eg. angular parks instead of parallel without disrupting main traffic flow. When developments happen, have more restrictions to have off street parking. Incentise public transport and biking but don't enforce - everyone has complicated lives and we don't need council permits dictating our lives. Some questions I had were, what do we do if we can't get a permit? What if we want to remove the kerb out side the house - can we do it so council can give us higher priority permit access? Can you give us a way we can do it without charging money? How should we travel if we can't get a permit and want to travel outside of Wellington? Can we have better public transport to cheaper supermarkets like Pak n Save? What do you do if you don't bike and the buses are canceled, and you have no permit? At the very least can we change the p120 times to 9am - 4pm? Can the have the passes be free, $18 is too steep - I'll have less visitors otherwise.

Can you treat a flat differently to a family home? I also don't get why Newtown/Berampore is becoming a guinea pig for the other outer suburbs.

the limits on the number of permits is going to make it way harder to park and is not fair to larger households. We live in a houseshare that has six adults. There are four cars in the household currently, but could be upto 6 with changing flatmates. This is not a 2 adult family with a silly number of cars, we are 6 adults that lives that are completely independent from each other. That means at 2-4 people in our house will not be able to get a permit (if we even manage to get the max 2 permits). We live near the Zoo, parking can be annoying but even on a sunny weekend when the zoo is packed or when theres a event on at Newtown park, you can always find a park within a couple streets. However with the suggested very limited non-resident parks (which will be in very very high demand), if you dont have a permit it will be almost impossible to park within a 20min walk of home - ridiculous, not fair, and much worse than the existing.

For the small amount of cyclists compared to cars it doesn't make any sense to spend more money on this shambles. Please stop this now, I am a cyclist and feel more at risk using this silly thing along with the Island Bay cycleway. Please be open and honest with the rate payers and tell them how many accidents have happened before and after the introduction of the cycle way. This is not your money to spend on silly projects. I doubt you will read this, make my comments public or listen. This survey I take it is a token gesture to say you have ticked some sort of box shame on you and the state of our country when the public are dictated to not listened to.

Until there is enough safe parking for hospital staff, and further parking made for visitors to the hospital. I don't support this at all. Already poor people trying to attend hospital appointments can't get a park and given the majority are older it's not ok. There needs to be a priority to have a parking building at the hospital. I am concerned for the safety of hospital staff- a majority females, having safe parking close to the hospital.

It,Ãs not just residents using these parks. It,Ãs hospital staff, volunteers and visitors. Hospital parking is already so poorly planned and in shortage. This will make it even worse!!

Too close to the hospital where parking is so poorly planned to accommodate staff, visitors and volunteers. Outing in these restrictions will severely impact Wellington hospital and make our jobs ten times harder!!

On street car parking is using public space for private consumption. I like the changes, but people that can't park off street should be further encouraged to get rid of a car, or it should be significantly more expensive for them to park a car.

Strongly support

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

I strongly support the proposed scheme. Plenty of vehicles in our area aren't used often and people may consider getting rid of these vehicles. We may also consider getting rid of our vehicle. Currently it can be hard to find a parking spot at times due to the hospital workers parking on our street.

It is reasonable to have to pay a small fee to park on the street.

I worry about the nurses who use our street (adelaide rd near countdown) as well as nikau Street for parking. Hopefully the hospital has a plan for them. Having it unrestricted overnight is a good idea as lots of day shift nurses take the bus or bike but night shift nurses tend to drive.

I strongly support better demand management, through limiting the number of passes per household and overall. This will help improve utilisation, make it easier for residents to find parks, and support the shift toward a more accessible climate-friendly city.

I have two young children and I commute to Porirua for work. We have a garage that a car cannot fit into so therefore our priority for a resident permit is very low. The priority scheme does not take into account situations like this. I feel even though we have a garage we should have higher priority for a resident permit as our garage cannot be used for a vehicle. Even though we bike the majority of the time I have to have a park close to home for the days I drop my children to childcare and drive to work as there is no feasible public transport from wellington to Porirua. Residents with unusable off street parking should have an equal priority for resident permits. Also residents with off street parking should have the right to the same number of visitors passes per year. I am a young mum and I have young mum friends with multiple kids. It,Äôs an isolating existence and if it,Äôs hard for people to come drive and park to visit they won,Äôt come. Also After 5 or 6pm and on weekends the time limit for parking should be unlimited.

My main issue with the Berhampore changes is that parking is relatively fine in the suburb now, but your changes are going to cause overflow and therefore ruin the parking for residents, your changes are literally creating the problem, let that sink and while you take my rates for your salary.

Think the price is too expensive Worried living in a flat share we would not all be approved for permits as there is 5 cars but it is not safe not to park your car near your home due to the number of car break ins I think passes should be free or very cheap for residents- the big problem is the zoo at the weekends. This is what needs to be addressed, if parking was limited to 90 minutes for non residents on the road that would work. Each house should get two permits free and thereafter 50 dollars per permit per car in the household. If there is 5 cars in the house and only 1 park they should be allowed 4 permits

I think resident permits is an excellent idea. I selected 'support' two permits per household but perhaps 1 would be better. There needs to be drastic behavior change around car use and ownership in NZ. In an inner city area with good alternative transport options means people should be able to reduce household car ownership and use alternatives.

I think the parking in berhampore village heading north should all be removed. This parking blocks traffic beyond what it needs to.

I HATE THIS PROPOSAL! If it is approved it is yet another bill to pay on top of the cost of living!!! Its not fair, you've taken away our parking and bloody put a cycle lane there and now your expecting people to pay to park their cars when your the one who created the parking shortage in the first place! [REDACTED]! Is it because you don't have enough money to finish off your cycle lane or is it because your scared the new government won't support you so your rushing this. To the hospital workers I feel for you. Most of the staff are young and females, what if they are working a late shift or early morning shift at 2am or 3am. It is not safe at that time of night in newtown, having to walk a long way just to get to their car. There are limited parks at that time as well as parks are already full with residents cars. What are you going to do to make it safer for these late night/early morning workers?

I don't think the restrictions should be on the weekends. Businesses should be a lower priority or only be able to use their parks during business hours. I think this proposal discriminates against people in townhouses and who lived in shared housing. I support the idea of making parking a priority for residents but I think this proposal will put some residents at a disadvantage.

I think the parking limits should apply until 6pm and I don't think they should apply at the weekend. I also think the system penalises people who live in shared housing and who live in townhouses. I am concerned that I will not be able to get a permit and will no longer be able to own a car.

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

We live in a flatting situation with one off street car park. As separate households we have more than one car in our household.

I think the priority order penalises those on lower incomes e.g groups flatting in townhouses. For example a business is eligible for a second permit before an household with say one off street park would be eligible for a permit. This means people flatting in multi household living situations would be potentially be ineligible for parking. Second permits should be lower priority than all first permits. And second business permits should be lower than second permits for residents. Businesses should be eligible to purchase through the trade passes and should be a cost of business. Residents living in an area should have priority. I think it,Äôs great to have all residents eligible for visitor permits, but these should be the same regardless of off street car park availability. E.g. 50 for all households, as off street car parks will be in use for residents.

The prioritisation link did not work. We need to see data on demand and parking supply before being able to have a view on capped permits and prioritisation. Overall parking will be harder to get due to the number of car parks removed from central berhampore

We have a garage, but as we don't own a car it is used for storage principally of our bicycles. I think it would be fair that households with no car, and who make no application for a residents permit, could get more visitor passes even if we have off street parking.

Once again you clearly do not care about the people living in this area - it is classic WCC authoritarian planning where a certain type of people subject to privilege with no concerns for anyone else. We all know you simply do these surveys to tick a box, you never consider anything that might even oppose what your thinktank has dreamt up in the slightest. You make me hate this city, but it is impossible to move due to commitments I have to those in my family in vulnerable positions that you continue to cause detriment to.

Yes, I think households will need 1 car for the time being. Properties with 2+ cars are an issue. The off road parking difference for visitors seems wrong. If you have a single garage, you should still be able to have the same number of visitor passes.

I own my family house in Berhampore. I should be guaranteed a permit. You should consider making it easier for homes like mine that don't currently have off at parking but could have it, to get it. You should consider introducing new public charge stations too for EVs.

I think this is an excellent improvement on the current residents parking scheme, it allows the flexibility to visit and use space rather than dividing people up into commuters or residents. I think the possibility of making the time slightly less on weekends - say 8am-2pm could be considered. That would let people visit and socialise more easily in the afternoon, but still make sure people weren't taking up space all day. I am not sure if the mix is right in terms of prioritisation. The logic for the dates isn't provided.

This is a ridiculous plan. Only residents live up this end of coromandel street. It,Äôs all residential so I,Äôm not sure how you think it,Äôs fair to have us pay when rent is already the through the roof. I work on the other side of town and have to drive. I can,Äôt walk or get public transport at that time. Also we live in Wellington? It,Äôs windy and raining? I,Äôm not getting a bike to go through that to then get sick then have to take off work. This is not a well thought out plan and I doubt people will go for it. We already rates and Newtown has majority students or people who don,Äôt earn a lot of money so you want to add this on,Ä¶no.

This seems a fair way of sharing the limited on-street parking availability, although if you have off-street parking it should be one on-street residential permit per dwelling and the 25 free days should be reduced to 15

It seems crazy to intend to charge $195 per annum for exemption permits to those households who have no off street parking. Surely these households should not be forced into paying? This seems bordering on something that cannot reasonably be enforced, and yet these people are often elderly or have young children and are in great need of on-street parking as close as possible to their residence.

There may be unintended consequences for those streets „just outside,“ the proposed borders. These may become flooded with cars looking to avoid the P120 restrictions. How do you propose to manage this?

Permits should be weighted in favour of car free or low car households - eg if you don't have a permit in your household you receive a rebate. If you have more than one, the second permit is significantly more expensive . If you have off street parking, the first permit should be at the higher rate.

I don't understand why the age of a dwelling is used to prioritise allocations for residents permits. Current residents are usually not responsible for decisions made about whether their dwelling includes off-street parking or not. Much of the current pressure on parking comes from hospital workers parking in the streets. For these workers it's unreasonable to expect them to use public or active transport, due to the shift work they do. At the same time many nurses are unable to afford living nearby, or pay the exorbitant Wilson parking fees. It is time for the hospital to start taking responsibility for their staff and providing them with an affordable, safe parking option. The uncertainty for residents re whether they can get a repeat resident permit is problematic. If you own a car and suddenly can't get an extension for your residents permit then what are you supposed to do?

The resident parking permits are too cheap. I understand that Govt law sets the maximum fee at cost recovery (around $200), but that does not accurately reflect the value of on-street parking. Please advocate to the Govt to amend the law, so Council can charge a fair fee for the private use of public land.

It,Âs a good idea to increase the number of short term 120 minute parks in Newtown. But the current design means it would be impossible for some residents to park on their street. There is still a need for residents only parking, which needs to be 24/7. In the small streets off Riddiford, residents already regularly have to idle their cars on the street waiting for parks, and most of the visitors taking up parks are currently short term visitors. In addition, some of these roads, like Green Street, are not well designed to cope with the increased number of cars that would be using the road under this plan - Green Street has no exit and no turning circle and with more cars visiting, it would become more dangerous for everyone.

Parking should also be restricted over night, ie 24 hours. Having no dedicated spaces for residents only is going to make it impossible for me to get a park in the street I live in. Most visitors already stay for less than 120 minutes and such visitors are already causing parking issues and traffic on Green street. I suppose making more 120 minute parking spots on the street but you also need to increase resident only parking for this to work.

I think it's a bit unfair to make people pay, when we already have fewer parks than needed (I live on Coromandel Street, where the hill has removed many parks!). It should be free for residents, but they had to prove residency, and only one car per household can get one. Also it's really hard for renters especially students.

I am strongly opposed to my house being zoned commercial when it has been a residence for over 110 years, yet the church down the road qualifies as residential. You are assuming that everyone living in the commercial zone works in the CBD from 9-5. With nowhere to park, how does a flight paramedic get to the airport in the middle of the night? Commercially zoned residences aren't even eligible for one permit, when Groups 7-9 who do have OSP may apply. This does not sit well with your intentions of being fair.

I think consideration should be given to the existing garages and how these are being used/blocking parking opportunities in two ways: 1. A lot of these garages in Newtown/Berhampore are too small to park modern cars and therefore are empty or used for storage rather than parking, but also the street must be kept clear in front of them. There should be a way for residents to apply/acknowledge this with the council and convert this street area into parking for their car, creating more parking. 2. To support more EVs, it would be good to see the council come up with an approved solution to parking cars on the street in front of garages to allow EV charging that was safe for pedestrians but allowed car owners to charge at home, thus freeing up public chargers more and promoting more sustainable driving options. I think the council needs to acknowledge the number of garages that are unused for parking and allow them to be parked in front of to utilise all street parking space.

You've removed parking outside the hospital which impacts negatively on visitor access especially for the poor and mobility impaired and now you're taking our parks, the Council is interested in income generation from resident parks, nothing more.

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Strongly oppose

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

This scheme is priorities visitors over resident of the area and its the residents that pay the rates and need to access there homes. I don't agree with scheme.

Do you own or use a car/van/ute, and park it, in the Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme area?

Yes

If you park in the parking scheme area, what parking do you have access to and/or use most of the time?

On the street (unrestricted)

What is your main relationship to the Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme area?

I live in the area

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, which zone of Newtown or Berhampore is it in?

Newtown east

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

Undecided

Why did you select that answer?

$195 permit fee and potentially increasing every year is expensive. Plus rates going up every year. Wellington is becoming un-affordable to live in.

If you live in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for one or more visitor day passes if the scheme is introduced?

Very likely

If you live in the area, how many vehicles are owned by people in your home?

One

Thinking about where you park, do you think the new scheme will have an impact on your ability to find a car park in Newtown?

Much harder

Do you support the scheme's proposed parking restrictions?

I think this scheme is very unfair to local residents. The two hour limit should worst case scenario 8am -6pm and only Monday to Friday. You are penalising residents over short term visitors. Trades do not work 8pm on Sundays so it doesn't even make sense.

The links to the above maps do not work so hard to see where they are, but I agree with a mix and don't think it should include weekend or after 6pm

The prioritisation seems to disadvantage larger households. We have a small car pad, so we will be way down the priority list. We have 5 adult/teens in our house and 2 cars. It seems likely we would miss out on a permit for our second car? We have less cars/people than a HH with 2 people and 1 car. The priority list also disadvantages group share HH - I don't understand why. Surely we want less cars per person?

I usually borrow a car from family for a day or two at a time - on the occasions I have access to a car, I need to be able to park it for more than two hours. Being restricted by numberplate will make it much more difficult for me - if it gets too difficult, I would be more likely to buy my own car to make parking easier.

I live in the apartments at 16-18 Constable St which were completed over the course of 2020. According to the prioritisation, I'd be nearly the lowest priority for a resident parking permit or not eligible at all. These apartments sold for $560,000 - about half what most Newtown villas built in the early 1900s were selling for at the time in 2020. There are also a higher proportion of flats and apartments lived in by lower income people in the business zone not eligible for resident parking permits. Discriminating based on year of construction of housing gives generally higher income home owners a greater right to transport. I cycle and take the bus most of the time - but we all sometimes have work commitments or family commitments that mean we might need to own or borrow a car. For me, I have elderly parents in Seatoun who visit regularly for periods longer than 2 hours but aren't up to cycling so far and would have to get two buses to reach me - it's not realistic. EV owners are also likely to be higher income and shouldn't be prioritised over other residents. Everyone should have access to resident and visitor parking permits. Prioritisation should be strictly by mobility and then number of cars. For those living in the business zone, permits should be allocated based on whether closest to the East or West zone, not denied entirely. People with an unused garage should also have the option to make the space in front of it a parking spot - as many can't afford to renovate/knock down their garage simply so they can fit their car in.

Fine with the East/West and application of parking restrictions on business zone - but not if residents living in the business zone arbitrarily lose almost all rights to parking for themselves and their visitors. This could make people move - it's not workable. I have elderly parents who visit me on Constable St who can't park blocks away in very limited unrestricted parking, and I don't want them to be watching the time as they can't stay for longer than two hours.

This parking plan is completely unnecessary and seems to only be a requirement due to proposed cycle lanes along Adelaide Rd and Berhampore. Once again WCC is catering to the minority (cyclists) at the expense of those who reside in or have a business in the area. Why can,Äôt cycle lanes be moved away from main roads for example behind Wakefield Park which would be safer for cyclists and motorists, and cause less disruption to those who reside/have a business in the area

Removing all parking on both sides of Adelaide Rd between Wakefield Park and Chilka street will create parking pressure on adjacent streets where parking is currently at a premium. Where are those who live on this section of Adelaide Rd supposed to park!

I don't understand why EV owners are given priority. This seems designed to penalise those who are unable to afford EVs, and bears absolutely zero relation to the need for parking (which is what this policy is trying to address). There are a large number of low income people in Newtown and Berhampore who will not be able to afford EVs for the foreseeable future, so why should they risk missing out to the benefit of their richer neighbours despite having the same need for parking (and potentially more need, if they are for example large families with children, or older people)? A simpler prioritisation would be: 1. Mobility permit holders 2. First permits for houses/businesses with no off-street parking 3. Second permits for houses/businesses with no off-street parking, first permits for houses/businesses with off-street parking.

I support the mix as long as there are enough spaces for each household to hold one permit.

I oppose the number of parking permits per property. These are essentially inner city suburbs with good public transport links and soon bike lanes etc. I think it should be one permit per household unless one is a priority user (e g mobility pass). I also think the number of visitor passes per year is excessive. Again these suburbs have good links for public transport and bikes, I would say 30 a yr maximum.

It is often extremely difficult to find a park in Luxford Street at times during the day and night as it is, so allowing for people to park for P120 with fewer car parks available is going to make it even more difficult

With the reduction in size of car parking as it is now, I do not believe there should be any resident permit exempt parking available at all.

Subject: New parking scheme for Newtown/Berhampore and specifically Luxford Street

Kia ora

I am writing in response to the proposed new parking scheme for Newtown/Berhampore and specifically Luxford Street. I am particularly concerned at the number of car parks being drastically reduced in this street.

As a long-term resident of [redacted] Luxford Street (70+ years), being born in Wellington and brought up at this address, I need to use a car and have on street parking available outside or very near to my house. This is necessary for me due to an unsuccessful hip replacement operation. I have a long-term mobility parking permit and being asked to share resident's parking with anyone wanting to park for 120 mins is going to make my life extremely difficult. I am unable to use a bus as getting on and off is extremely difficult and I am unable to walk distances.

The current parking situation in Luxford Street, with both sides of the street being used, is already extremely congested and I often find it difficult to park near my house. Sometimes, I have to drive around or wait until a car park becomes available. Over the last two to three months, two properties on the street have been having renovations undertaken and every day during working hours there are five to six builders' vans parked on the street, not to mention both sites having skip bins outside for rubbish also taking up a car park. The street is also full of residents' cars overnight.

Luxford Street appears to be the same width for the whole length of the street, so I cannot understand why car parking is being restricted to the ends of the street and it cannot be maintained in the middle section.

I am a GirlGuiding NZ volunteer leader for both Guides and Rangers on Monday and Wednesday evenings in Island Bay, which I have done for over 50 years and during this time have encouraged and made a difference to the lives of many girls and young women for the community. I am also the Local Coordinator for the area and in this role support adult volunteer leaders in Brooklyn, Island Bay, Berhampore and Newtown who provide GirlGuiding for girls from 5 – 17 years of age. In 2018 I received a Kiwibank Local Hero award for my contribution for this work in the community and I wish to continue. I feel that if the extensive proposed reduction in car parking in Luxford Street goes ahead, it will be almost impossible to find a car park anywhere near my house, especially at night, therefore making it unsafe to get back to my house after the weekly meetings.

I am able to get my own groceries and wish to continue doing this, provided I can park near my house.

I have a contractor come and maintain my lawns once every three weeks to keep my property tidy, where will they park?

Whilst I do not object to encouraging cycling and walking, I think it is important to remember that not everyone in the community is able to do this and the removal of car parks to the extent proposed is discriminatory to the elderly and/or disabled population (which in my case is both). Is it possible consideration could be given to providing a mobility park in this space?

Please acknowledge receipt of this email so that I know it has been read and not just put to one side.

Ngā mihi

I am fully supportive of rolling out parking permits across the city. On a general note, I'd like to see these aimed at reducing multi-car, single-family households (i.e. one family with multiple vehicles), and on getting those who have offstreet parking (i.e. garages) to use them.

I don't support the reduction in days for dwellings with off-street parking. The point of the passes is that they are for visitors. It is unlikely that visitors will be able to use off-street parking already being used by dwelling residents, so dwellings with parking should not be penalised.

Parking outside 135 and 137 Owen Street needs to maintain the newly applied 10 minute restriction that already exists, as this is a Kohanga Reo and needs to accommodate parents picking up and dropping of their Tamariki and Mokopuna.

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Strongly support

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

I support this proposal, even though it will change parking for my household in a major way. I support a change to reduce the number of vehicles and prioritise a more diverse range of transport options. Parking has become very difficult in Berhampore, primarily when Wakefield Park is busy with sports games on weekends. I consider our sporting communities could be more efficient with transport and off-street parking e.g. through carpooling or using team transport instead of 1-2 people to each car. Otherwise, parking in Berhampore is very manageable - but I recognise with a growing population that pressure will only increase.

Berhampore zone

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

Very likely

Why did you select that answer?

Because we live and park on Adelaide Road and there are limited options to park near our house. Under the proposal, all the parks near our house would be in the P120 zone.

I generally support the introduction of restrictions and residents' permits, but I am nervous about the prioritisation and cap proposals because it is uncertain and may leave some people unserved. I think it is preferable to provide sufficient permits for the number of households, but capping the number of vehicles per household - rather than prioritising different household groups. In my view, capping permits at 2 vehicles per house strikes a good balance in terms of providing for residents, but incentivising a move away from individual vehicles.

I would like to know how these P120 resident parking areas would be monitored without anyone visibly seeing a permit sticker on a vehicle. Anyone could potentially still get away with parking a whole day or like at the moment up to weeks without moving their cars.

There needs to be a plan for the hospital (staff and patients). I don't necessarily think the answer is granting exemptions to hospital staff but I do think the council should work with the hospital to find a satisfactory solution.

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Strongly support

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

These parking changes are needed to give residents, visitors to the area and businesses a chance to access their suburb. Newtown has developed into an oversized staff car park for two large hospitals. Workers in surrounding areas also use this as all-day car parking due to its close proximity to the city and good transport links. The current situation is well past appropriate use with a number of issues. Patient access to the hospitals is poor due to hospital staff parking for extended periods. Time-limited parking would help open up short-term parking for a massive number of hospital patients and visitors. Residents, which are often young families, struggle to access their homes due to parking difficulties. This extends to difficulties with access to schools and daycare in our suburb. The requirements for staff parking at Wellington Hospital and the private Wakefield Hospital should be the responsibility of these services and not rate payers in the area. The proposal for residents to have to pay for the parking will have a massive effect on what is, in large, a low-income area. A $200 fee per year will be impossible for many families in the area to be able to cover on top of the current rates that they pay which should already be taking parking services into account. Further thought should be put into this system in such a low-income area.

Do you own or use a car/van/ute, and park it, in the Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme area?

Yes

If you park in the parking scheme area, what parking do you have access to and/or use most of the time?

On the street (unrestricted)

What is your main relationship to the Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme area?

I live in the area

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, which zone of Newtown or Berhampore is it in?

Newtown east

If you live or own/manage a business in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for a resident's exemption permit if the scheme is introduced?

Very likely

Why did you select that answer?

Because we have a young family and a car is a requirement for us. Without access to this we would have to consider leaving our home.

If you live in the area, how likely is it that you would apply for one or more visitor day passes if the scheme is introduced?

Likely

If you live in the area, how many vehicles are owned by people in your home?

One

Thinking about where you park, do you think the new scheme will have an impact on your ability to find a car park in Newtown?

Much easier

Do you support the scheme's proposed parking restrictions?

These restrictions are desperately needed. Residents, visitors and businesses should not be responsible for the staff parking at the hospitals in the area.

I don't see any mention of how these restrictions will apply to car share services such as Mevo, as I believe these services reduce the pressure on parking in general I hope these cars will still be able to park in the P120 parking spaces for longer than 120 minutes.

Overall, do you support the proposed Berhampore and Newtown parking scheme?

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

Assuming since the title of the proposal is about making it easier for people *without* a car, it actually means making it harder for people *with* a car (even an electric car). The current bike lanes have greatly disadvantaged those who cannot cycle -- such as the disabled and elderly. They are hardly used (as are the bike parks that take up at least 2 car parks where installed). So the entire thrust is to disadvantage car owners. Without excellent public transportation, this is just advantaging the few over the many -- not representative government.

not clear if this will make it harder for non-residents, in line with all other (Green) council policy which seems 100% based on making it harder to own and drive a car in Wellington (even an electric car)

Why is the council not working with Health NZ? Given the real reason we have a parking issues in Newtown is due to the hospital, Wellington Council needs to be working with them to sort this issue rather than penalising our local community. If you had spent much time in the area you would also note that after 5pm and on weekends park improves so why is restrictions lasting till 8pm and on weekends. You should also have noticed that most parking garages are very old and very small and do not fit today modern vehicles. Why should this be a disadvantage to locals. This feels like another revenue generating idea by the council. Why would the permanents are the permits so expensive?

Please stop this now. Cyclists can already comfortably ride down Rintoul. You are massively negatively impacting hundreds of residents for a small group who can already cycle there safely. Show us stats of bike accidents (not caused by the cyclist) if you think you have a case. Do research on what people use their vehicles for, eg frequent medical visits, caring for elders, multiple destination trips with diverse family needs. This seems incredibly ignorant and uncaring to the needs of our community.

WCC once again ignores the reality of people who work in the affected areas. This will negatively affect hospital workers and making staff walk further at all times of night/weather is dangerous. WCC must amend their parking policies to consider the building of multi-level car parking buildings to alleviate the impacts on commuters, visitors are residents alike. This is even the recommendation in WCCs expensive Gehl report - but which they are ignoring. Improvements to cycleways, pedestrian links and PT are critical - but planners need to be realistic - the switch isn't going to magically happen if you remove all parking. Find the balance, provide amenity to cover the switch period.

What does prioritisation mean - who does this apply too? You link is broken. If for the elderly and disabled then yes. Applications for unrestricted parking should be made available to hospital shift staff - for safety reasons. Adjust restriction hours 9am-5pm - to allow hospital staff working shifts to be able to park unrestricted.

Balance between unrestricted and unrestricted is off. WCC must consider that hospital shift staff use these parks and forcing them to walk further, at night, in poorly lit streets, in all weather conditions is dangerous. Please don't punish these workers. Cannot support the plan until council takes these people requirements seriously - and not just say "they can walk another 10mins or so".

Generally I think this is a good idea - particularly as people who are visiting/going to an appointment can take public transport which has vastly improved - think it's just important to ensure plenty of disabled parking around the hospital.

Do you have any comments to make about the overall proposed scheme?

Overall, I strongly support this scheme. When I look at the proposed parking map, I am concerned about the proposal to retain parking near busy intersections - it looks like the bike lanes stop to allow for more parking on Adelaide between Britomart and Luxford St, and on Rintoul before the Riddiford Rd cycle lane. As someone who bikes in this area regularly, I know that these intersections are some of the most challenging stretches of Newtown/Berhampore to ride through and a lack of cycle lane connectivity is likely to hamper the usefulness of the network particularly to children, teenagers and less confident riders. I urge the council to move parking out of these crucial links in the cycle network.
