(1215/11/IM)

NOTED:

Mayor Prendergast shared the following with the meeting for the APW Awards being presented to Jim Drummond, Ian McDonald, Rex Da Vanzo and Howard Tong.

“Good evening everyone. APW Awards are a way for the Council to honour members of our community who have made major contributions in various fields over a long period.

It is my pleasure this evening to present Absolutely Positively Wellingtonian Awards to four Wellingtonians who have done an enormous amount for the young people of our city.

Jim Drummond and Ian McDonald, Howard Tong and Rex Da Vanzo, have worked in very different areas, but all have made a huge difference and contribution.

Jim and Ian, through the Hataitai Amateur Swimming Club, have taught hundreds, if not thousands, of Wellington children the fundamental life skill of swimming.

This year is the centenary of the Hataitai Swimming club and for a whole forty of those years Jim and Ian have been the driving force behind the club's extensive Learn to Swim programme. Indeed, Ian has been the Club Captain since 1972.

Local historians will know that there is no heated pool in Hataitai. But there is a beach, and that is where the club taught its programmes for at least the first 60 years. When Ian and Jim got involved in the 1960s the Freyberg pool had just been built and understandably they shifted their venue.

Jim and Ian have worked well as a team, with complementary skills. Jim has perhaps more of a philosophical bent, reflecting on our watery origins in the mystery of life, while Ian has enjoyed putting his education expertise into practice.

Even now Jim still competes in the Masters Grade of competitive swimming and you can see from the look of him that he's a winner.

Ian's career in education included teaching physical education teachers how to teach, and extended to helping rugby coaches and referees too, with many trips on behalf of the New Zealand Rugby Union to the Pacific and South America.

The Learn to Swim programme Jim and Ian continue to help run gives young people many benefits. Swimming is a much-needed survival skill that breeds confidence, while teaching respect for water and the elements.

It also lays the basis for future development into many areas of water-based recreation or sport, from diving to water polo, under water hockey, triathlons or just plain mucking about in boats. It is a vital skill for anyone living as close to the sea as we do.

Jim and Ian continue their hands-on coaching work regardless. Ian now lives up the Kapiti Coast but still drives in for the Friday night club sessions. I think it keeps them young! They get a lot of satisfaction from seeing the quick progress that can be made if a difficult skill like swimming is taught well, and they certainly know how to teach.

(Councillor Cook joined the meeting at 5.32pm.)

(Councillor Ritchie joined the meeting at 5.36pm.)

Now to Rex and Howard. These characters met in 1991 on a musical theatre production of Annie at the Porirua Little Theatre. They enjoyed working together and came up with the idea of bringing part of the show into town to perform at the local Italian club Rex is linked with – Club Garibaldi.

It was a roaring success and quickly established the Club Garibaldi Variety Concerts. These then became the Benefit Series cabaret evenings as the idea took shape of using the concerts to raise funds so local young singers could continue their studies overseas after graduating from music school.

There have now been some 30 of these Benefits: two each year and held over two nights each.

They have become a highly-prized part of Wellington's musical and theatre scene, but you never see them advertised, because the shows are always sold out well in advance.

Such marketplace promotional perfection didn't just happen. One of Rex's skills in particular is the art of selling, and he has become justly famous for it. He also works incredibly hard, personally informing his extensive client list, kept in a reliable old brown ledger book.

There is a huge amount of work to do for each concert; about four months of planning and preparation and Rex and Howard now lead a well-honed team. The potential beneficiary artists need to be identified, a programme agreed, supporting artists and accompanists lined up. Literally hundreds of phone calls are made.

On the night a custom-made portable stage gets hauled up from the club basement and special backdrop curtains are hung and it's show time.

The careers of many talented artists have received a notable boost from this concert series. At the time they were just up-and-coming young things, but now names such as Anna Leese, Ali Harper, Jaimee Marshall, Brett McKenzie and Jemaine Clement (yes, from the Flight of the Conchords) ring more than bells.

What both Rex and Howard, and Ian and Jim, have done in their respective fields of interest gives a great example to others. But it is also typical of a lot that happens in Wellington, where a creative spirit, and a sense of enjoyment and fun, goes hand-in-hand with hard work to make good things happen.

On behalf of the Council and the city, I would like to thank you all for your individual efforts and to congratulate you on your achievements. You truly are Absolutely Positively Wellingtonians and I wish, you well for the continuing success of these wonderful ventures. Thank you."
