Quarterly Review – Positively Wellington Tourism

Positively Wellington Tourism has presented its report for the quarter ended 30 September 2011 for review. A summary of key findings is presented below and the full report is attached.

Highlights / Summary

- Visa Wellington on a Plate attracted 103 participating restaurants with 25,000 festival attendees (up 47% on last year).
- In July, PWT launched the Scratch to Win KNOW acquisition campaign and achieved its goal of growing the e-news database. They achieved 15% growth compared to that of previous quarters of around 4%.
- A record 50 stores entered this years WOW retail competition with Gordon Harris and Ziggurat taking out top honours.
- PWT was heavily involved in the organising and delivery of Wellington activities for RWC2011. Activities included producing and distributing a Wellington RWC visitor guide; developing the website WellingtonNZ2011.com; promoting the Festival of Carnivale; promoting and participating in the Rippa Rugby activities in Civic Square.

Activities during the quarter

- PWT introduced the 3 for TWO campaign to boost guest nights spent in the Wellington region between June and August. As a result of the initiative, guest nights increased 21%, 18% ahead of the previous busiest winter period in 2009.
- > PWT successfully ran the 'city excitement' activity for WOW.
- Facebook fans grew by 4% on the previous quarter, increasing our global fan base to 20,889. Of this, Wellington-based fans grew by 35%.
- Work continued on the Australia Marketing campaign with regional financial partners now confirmed. Hawke's Bay Tourism has now joined the team. PWT undertook its first joint activity with Qantas this quarter by supporting "The Great Crusade" – a convoy of 25 campervans of Australian tourists following RWC2011.

Financial Commentary

- The quarter's result was an operating surplus of $897k against a budgeted surplus of $614k. This was due to a lower than budgeted spend on the Australian Marketing campaign.
- Income was $687k below budget mainly due to lower Partner Income with Air New Zealand now as part of the Australian Marketing programme (campaign structure changes with each organisation paying accounts up to $1m)
- YTD Visitor Centre and i-Site revenue is 23% ahead of budget due to strong business during the RWC2011.

Positively Wellington Tourism

2011/12 - Quarterly Report (July - September 2011)

Summary

The calendar year 2011 has to date been a resoundingly strong year for Wellington. Travellers in our part of the world this year have been impacted by three events – the Global Financial Crisis, the Earthquake in Christchurch and the Rugby World Cup.

Although there's still some distance to go (perhaps a lull after RWC and a General Election, will impact) it is clear that the popularity of visiting Wellington has been sustained and that perhaps the reinforcement of Wellington's story over twenty years since the launch of Absolutely Positively Wellington in 1991 has made sure that New Zealanders look forward to visiting the capital now more than ever (mood of the New Zealand Traveller Flybuys/Colmar Brunton Research). In looking forward we still wait to see what Auckland with its new Tourism, Events and Economic Development Agency will do. As we continually develop our strategy for the promotion of Wellington we need to stick to that strong story line the city and its tourism sector have so well constructed.

Whilst the number of visitors, room prices and who was going to win filled many minds during the run up to and of course during the Rugby World Cup, PWT turned its mind to continue the great work with council in areas such as street flags and the volunteer programme and also making sure that the visiting media went away with the very best impressions of our city and putting those impressions on paper.

The coverage the city got was amazing; media understood the city's relationship with sport, with its magnificent harbour setting and perhaps most importantly the dynamic vibrant heart of the city. It was certainly of interest to note that as the South African media left after their teams loss in the city that the focus of their comments on line and on the news pages of Johannesburg and Cape Town was about their sorrow to be leaving Wellington rather than berating their team!

Our activity in Australia continues to bring significant results in regards to flight capacity and arrivals from that country; working even more closely with Air New Zealand this year will help us to further still reap the benefits of marketing out city across the Tasman.

Highlights of our Activity

Downtown Marketing

Social Media

- Facebook fans grew by 4% on last quarter, increasing our global fan base to 20,889. Of note, Wellingtonian fans grew by a significant 35%.
- The Facebook post with the greatest fan engagement was a photo showcasing Wellington's beautiful weather taken from the PWT office. We are now tracking engagement and trialling different ways in interact with the city's fans.
- Twitter followers increased by 7% on last quarter, bringing our total followers to 5,877.

KNOW Scratch to Win

 In July, PWT launched the Scratch to Win KNOW acquisition campaign. Primarily an online campaign, consumers were able to scratch to win deals from local businesses including attractions, cafes and bars. The campaign was promoted through online banners, Facebook ads and Look Walkers (see below photo).

The campaign achieved it's goal of growing the KNOW enews database; in Q1 the database grew by 15% (from 26,981 to 31,132) compared to previous growth rates of 4% and 3% respectively for 2010/2011 Q3 and Q4.

• This year's retail competition was entered by a record 50 stores. Gordon Harris and Ziggurat took out the top awards.

RWC

- PWT was heavily involved in the activities of the Wellington local organising committee for Rugby World Cup 2011. To enhance local's and visitor's experience of the Cup in the city, we:
 - o produced and distributed the special Wellington RWC Visitor Guide and Wellington RWC Map
 - o developed and maintained WellingtonNZ2011.com
 - o promoted the Festival of Carnivale via all of our available channels
 - o promoted and participated in the Civic Square Rippa Rugby

New Zealand Marketing

WOW

- PWT ran the city excitement activity for WOW.
- WOW's economic impact on the city was estimated in 2009 to be $15 million, a sum which will be higher this year because of its longer run. 47,000 people attended the two-week event with approximately 60 per cent coming from outside Wellington.
- What did the retailers and restaurateurs say?
 - Danielle Hokianga, manager of Lambton Quay shoe store Mischief, said "It's bigger than Christmas for us. It's always a pickup in business but this year has actually been really good."
 - Ollie Edwards owner of the Trade Kitchen restaurant. "It's great for us. We put on a special pre-WOW menu, so yeah, we really notice a big difference in bookings".

Visa Wellington On A Plate

- Visa Wellington On a Plate 2011 had 103 participating restaurants, 80 events and over 25,000 festival-goers (up 47% on last year).
- More than 400 bakers took part in the Wellington Bake Club and Burger Wellington had 50 participating restaurants (up from 33 in 2010).

3 for TWO

- Guest nights spent in the Wellington region increased 21% across the June-August quarter to 502,754. This was 18% ahead of the previously busiest winter period in 2009 and represented a 55% increase across the past decade.
- One of the key drivers of the winter growth, was the 3 Nights for Two hotel campaign we ran during May-July.
- We're bringing that back for the December/January booking period and extending the offer to other business sectors such as attractions, retailers, bars and restaurants.

PR / Media Activity / Media Results

Destination Media Highlights

:: Café Secrets – two Wellington shows in new 8-episode TV3 foodie series over winter.

:: Visa Wellington On a Plate – media clips almost double of 2010 with coverage reaching close to 10 million in cumulative circulation/audience numbers. Media coverage of the festival had an advertising space rate of close to $1 million. Major coverage in Kia Ora, Sunday Star Times, The Press, NZ Listener, The Dominion Post, TV1, NZ Herald Viva.

:: WOW – Hosted and secured great results from Yahoo, Hawke's Bay Today and Waikato Times

:: Sirocco at ZEALANDIA – NZ Herald 'alternative nightlife' feature about Wellington's night attractions...and we weren't talking about bars this time.

:: Deals & Deadlines – we have set and shared collaborative deadlines to compile and push themed holiday and target market anniversary content to travel media and through PWT's channels.

Industry Media Highlights

:: 20 Years of Absolutely Positively Marketing Wellington celebrated in The Dominion Post and NZ Marketing Magazine spread is due out soon. Cumulatively 2000 views of the 20 year celebration vid & APW TVC distributed to celebrate the anniversary.

:: The past three months has seen great coverage in The Dominion Post about ongoing successes of tactical marketing campaigns such as 3 for Two, resulting in a record winter for Wellington hotels.

:: Careful relationship management and a connected approach saw Wellington shine in the lead up to and during RWC 2011. Accommodation and visitor treatment issues were managed, and the latter turned into positives.

:: Cruise sector doubling in economic impact in the space of two years.

Australia Marketing

All our regional financial partners from 10/11 have committed to working with PWT to promote the wider region to Australia in 2011-12, these partners consist of Hutt City Council, Destination Marlborough, Interislander, Te Papa, Wellington International Airport, and Destination Wairarapa. A new partner has also joined the team; Hawke's Bay Tourism.

Our core out of region partner this year will be Air New Zealand whilst we will also deliver activity in partnership with Tourism New Zealand, Qantas and a number of Online Travel Agents. Air NZ will now promote Wellington in a much stronger single destination style in Australia, with stand alone activity and Wellington will feature as the lead in fare with great regularity across the Air New Zealand coded flights out of Australia to Wellington.

In market our partnership activity with the traditional travel trade has also been continued. Recently we supported a key agent Kirra Holidays on a roadshow taking in 7 cities in Australia, This company also operate tours and the have 're-skinned' one of their South Island busses with a Wellington theme.

Working with another key agent ANZCRO through their retail channels, we are promoting Wellington and the Classic NZ Wine Trail by training staff and providing them with fun incentives as they sell Wellington product.

We worked online with travel agents Hotelclub, Lastminute.com and Webjet took place in Q1.

PWT undertook its first joint activity with Qantas his quarter, supporting the Great Crusade - a convoy of 25 campervans hosting media, musicians and prize winners which followed the Qantas Wallabies around RWC. This was in conjunction with TNZ. Initial results are positive, with Wellington featuring significantly on breakfast TV in Australia, and across domestic in-flight entertainment Australia wide. Coverage through electronic direct marketing online through Qantas channels was strong - final results are expected in November.

A key PR opportunity we looked to maximise in this first quarter started strongly with a standalone NZ Masterchef episode (airing to 800 000 Australia wide) in early July. Work in the PR space around this included providing 40 key foodie media with media kits that included food, wine and key information on the wider region. Other media results included a great 8 page piece with Australian Gourmet Traveller on Wellington. Many of the main newspapers also syndicated stories around RWC, which has been the primary media focus for Q1.

Digital Marketing

Online Revenue

With the Q1 monthly average of $59,759, our current year-end run rate is 13% ahead of target for revenue generated through wellingtonNZ.com. This is driven by a 12% increase YOY in booking value rather than an increase in volume.

WellingtonNZ.com

Q1 visits to WellingtonNZ.com increased 20% YOY, driven by high international visitors during the Rugby World Cup period.

During Q1 PWT also launched an interactive game which focuses on the city, food and wine and the waterfront and coastline - which 'ticks off' some of the best things to do in and around Wellington! Players could register to win a trip to Wellington, both for Australian and domestic players. Overall, there were 1,672 unique players, with 55% based in Australia. There were also 2,554 competition entries from 1,378 unique players.

Mobile statistics

Q1 was a significant period for the mobile site, and reinforces to PWT the need to provide mobile applications to overseas visitors. Visits to the mobile site increased 138% Year on Year and 36% on Q4. September visitors increased 794% on August due to international visitors in Wellington for the Rugby World Cup.

International Marketing

Jo Heaton represented the Wellington and Wairarapa Marketing Alliance at the TNZ-organised International Marketing Alliance Workshop in London, Paris, Frankfurt and Munich in July. Four-hundred frontline agents were trained in the 'School of Cool', 35 Product Managers and five PR agency staff updated and a bloggers event undertaken.

Sarah Meikle represented the region at KiwiLink India in August accompanied by Te Papa and Interislander. Team Wellington leveraged the recent filming of a new Bollywood movie, The Players, as the presentation concept. Around 350 Senior Executives, Product Managers and Front-liners attended the four workshops. Follow up activity includes visits to key Inbound Operators in New Zealand to influence itinerary change and information via e-newsletter.

International journalists were hosted for WOW and planning for SATW in November has reached meticulous levels however attention has been primarily focussed on media handling for RWC2011. Key work streams included:

- Delivery of Media Welcome function at Te Papa Museum.
- PWT staff embedded in the Stadium Media Centre on key dates
- Wellington stories, images and content supplied to Virtual Media Centre
- Around 20 Media Activities organised including quad and mountain biking, Lord of the Rings and beer tours and a regional wine tasting with uptake by around 130 journalists.
- Production of Media Handout resource
- Hosting weekly 'Media Scrum' offering an informal catch up.

How did Wellington do? They loved the coolest little capital in the world.

"I just wanted to convey our thanks on behalf of SABC for all your help to get awesome colour pieces in Wellington. The people back home love what we have sent through from Wellington and we thoroughly enjoyed filming it." SABC South Africa

"You really can be proud of that cute little capital of yours!" JJ Harmse, Sport24

"You guys have been magnificent and although the RWC wasn't my first visit to your beautiful city it was by far my most memorable. I will treasure the memories and I will be back. Thanks again." Liam Del Carme, Sunday Times South Africa

"The Wellington tourism people have been quite superb to us during the three weeks we have spent in their fair city, but, to be fair, it has not been a hard sell for them. Wellington is a quite exquisite place." Kevin McCallum, IOL.com South Africa

"Just a further thanks to you all for the wonderful hospitality you showed us. This has undoubtedly been the best-organised World Cup in terms of hosting media, and I have received a lot of very positive feedback from home that The Scotsman, in particular, has provided a very rounded picture of not only the tournament but also New Zealand in general." David Ferguson, Chief Rugby Writer, The Scotsman

"Wellington, the most Argentine city of them all." Mendoza Daily, Argentina

"Wellington provides a warm link to its cultural activities and nightlife that goes well beyond the average in New Zealand." Rugby World, France

Convention Bureau Sales and Marketing

Bureau partnership remains strong, vibrant and active with 102 members onboard.

This is demonstrated by PWT's supporting exhibitor participation and a great trade turnout at the Wellington Conference and Events Expo (run by Positively Wellington Venues) in July at TSB Bank Arena.

Consistent with the C & I industry across the North Island PWT has experienced a surge of enquiry pre RWC 2011 for the end of 2011. However since the tournament commenced an expected lull has occurred.

RWC 2011 has though attracted a fair share of incentive groups making the most of the Coolest little Capital in the World. A group of 60 visitors from South Africa undertook a 10-day itinerary of local culinary delights, hospitality and culture during pool play. The group say they were particularly impressed by the amazing food and service at Monsoon Poon, the good time at Molly Malone's, an evening event at Te Papa, and the 'ultimate wow factor' at Boomrock.

"We were blown away by New Zealand, the country, the people, the culture and the great atmosphere created during RWC. I really hope that I get the opportunity to visit New Zealand again very soon." Dusty Miller, Director ITC Sports

Andrea Stephen, the Convention Bureau Sales Manager attended the Association Forum, an industry tradeshow in Brisbane in August.

In Australia, in partnership with Positively Wellington Venues and Te Papa we have gone to market to employ a Sydney based Australian Business Development Manager. Andrea Werner joins the team from 3 October.

This strategic move with well defined goals will secure new business from the Australian market given increased Trans-Tasman capacity and heightened awareness of Wellington in the main metropolitan feeder markets.

i-Site Visitor Centre

- 1. Environment i-SITE Redevelopment completed with the installation of large scale light boxes depicting attractive Wellington tourism products & locations.
- 2. Wellington i-SITE hosted the New Zealand i-SITE Managers Annual Conference in July at the Amora Hotel. Managers from 90 national i-SITE's attended and participated in a pre/post familirisation programme. Rt Hon. John Key was a guest speaker.

3. Wellington City Ambassador Programme Implemented. Over 60 volunteers have been recruited, trained and uniformed. They will provide tourist information at major touchpoints in the city for visiting cruise ship passengers.

- 4. Management team of the i-SITE actively involved in interviewing and training tourism volunteers for the Rugby World Cup Volunteer Programme. Volunteer briefings were conducted by i-SITE staff on a daily basis throughout the tournament. Managed the resourcing of five mobile i-SITE carts around the CBD.
- 5. Annual Assessment completed by Qualmark; record high score of 93% was achieved. The centre also obtained Gold Rating for a 'BeAccessible' programme (assesses the i-SITE centre environment and sales tools for visitors with accessibility needs).

Financial performance

The budget and related KPI's presumed that Joint Venture Activity in Australia would result in cash flow through PWT. However working with Air New Zealand in this financial year rather than Tourism New Zealand has meant that our campaign structure changes with each organisation paying accounts up to $1m. Thus whilst the work is being carried out in market the Joint Venture partners cash is not passing through PWT. If it were Overheads would represent 10.8% of revenue and WCC derived income would be 46.6% of total income.

The excellent income result for the Interislander i-Site has been consistent for each month, but higher than anticipated for September with Rugby World Cup passengers.
