(10 JUNE 2024)

Introduction

[1] The Court has received a number of appeals against the proposed Wellington City District Plan (proposed plan). Those appeals are to be managed together unless otherwise directed in future.

[2] The appeal period ended on 20 May 2024. Pursuant to the relevant regulations, appeals were to be served on all persons who made a submission on the provision or matter in question within five working days of the appeals being lodged, being 27 May 2024.

[3] The period for joining appeals under s 274 ends on 11 June 2024.

[4] The Council is directed to file a reporting memorandum on or before 5pm on 15 July 2024 setting out a proposed approach to case management of the appeals including any possible grouping of appeals and topics for the purposes of mediation.

[5] Given the proposed plan contains provisions inserted under the Intensification Streamlined Planning Process contained in Clause 107, Part 6, Schedule 1 of the Act (to which no Environment Court appeal rights pertain), the Council is to confirm in its memorandum that all appeals are within the Court's jurisdiction or to otherwise set out the jurisdictional position.

[6] Upon receipt of the memorandum, the Court will consider whether a judicial conference is required to be convened.

[7] Leave is reserved for any party to apply for further or other directions.
