– Expanding our horizons and strengthening the ANZAC relationship

Registration and Programme

Tuesday 17 and Wednesday 18 November 2015
Wellington New Zealand

BERNIE DIVER
CHAIR

It is my pleasure to welcome delegates to this, the 18th Defence Industry Forum.

We are thrilled with the program we, in conjunction with our friends within the NZDF and MoD, have been able to provide this year.

This year the theme of our Forum is Defence Security and Industry: Expanding our Horizons and Strengthening the ANZAC Relationship.

The purpose of this theme is to focus on the significant capital programmes that are starting to be examined on both side of the Tasman.

In line with our continuing commitment to develop our Forum this year we will be moving the venue to the TSB Centre, which will provide an improved Trade area and a more engaged environment for our speakers. This will also be our third year of acknowledging the commitment of Defence and Industry to work together to deliver increased value for money outcomes, by presenting an Award for the Defence Employee who has demonstrated best practise in developing sustainable commercial relationships with Industry. We look to receiving a score card on the progress against the commitments made during last year's launch of the Ministry Of Defence's Paper, Optimising New Zealand Participation in Defence Sector Procurement. NZDF's recent PROGRAMME KOTAHITANGA, restructuring the organisation to be One Force for all New Zealand, will also be of significant interest to forum attendees.

We have invited key leaders from Defence and government from both sides of the Tasman, to set out for us their agendas for growth in New Zealand industry in both New Zealand and overseas defence markets. This will present some quite different perspectives from those presented in previous years, although last year's presentation from the Treasury set a precedent for lateral thinking in such presentations.

Our forum continues to be a critical event that brings together Defence and Crown officials with Industry for a series of informative and thought provoking presentations, practical master-class style workshops and panel discussions. With plenty of networking time we hope that all attending will take full advantage of the opportunities available over the two days.

Finally I would like to thank the Secretary of Defence and the Chief of Defence Force for their collective support for the 2015 Defence Industry Forum.

KERRE MCIVOR
MC

Kerre McIvor is the host of the number one night-time talk show in New Zealand, on NewsTalk ZB from Monday through to Thursday night. She has a weekly column in the Herald on Sunday and is the book ambassador for the Paper Plus franchise.

Kerre has made several appearances on TV including Intrepid Journeys, Fair Go, Heartland, Ready, Steady Cook and Dream Jobs. She has also hosted several TV documentaries.

She has released her second book titled 'Short Fat Chick in Paris' which follows on from her best selling 'Short Fat Chick to Marathon Runner' which went into a third re-print in NZ.

HELENE QUILTER
SECRETARY OF DEFENCE

Helene Quilter, a career public servant, has been Secretary and Chief Executive of the Ministry of Defence since December 2012.

Ms Quilter has over 35 years' experience in the Public Service. Immediately prior to her appointment as Secretary of Defence she was a Deputy Commissioner at the State Services Commission where she provided leadership to chief executives to improve agency performance. Ms Quilter was responsible for managing the performance of chief executives in the justice, defence, intelligence and foreign affairs agencies on behalf of the State Services Commissioner and was part of the central agency team responsible for overseeing the implementation of the Defence White Paper 2010.

She was previously a Deputy Chief Executive with the Ministry of Social Development.

Ms Quilter has a Masters Degree in Strategic Studies.

Helene Quilter serves as Public Sector Trustee on the Equal Employment Opportunities (EEO) Trust.

LIEUTENANT GENERAL TIM KEATING
MNZM

In January 1982 General Keating enlisted into the New Zealand Army as an Officer Cadet, and joined the Royal New Zealand Infantry Regiment upon graduation from the Officer Cadet School in Waiouru.

General Keating served in various operational appointments until 1990, when he was a Squadron Commander in the NZ SAS Group.

In 1996 he completed the Australian Command and Staff Course in Queensland and in October 1997 was posted, on promotion to major, as the Commanding Officer of the New Zealand contingent to the Multinational Force in the Sinai Peninsula.

In January 1999 he was appointed Commanding Officer, 1 NZSAS Group, and then in 2001 became Commandant, Officer Cadet School. In July 2004 he was promoted to Colonel and appointed Special Projects Officer, Headquarters Joint Forces New Zealand. In July 2005 he was appointed Commander, CRIB 6 (a 100-strong contingent deployed to support international reconstruction efforts in Afghanistan).

General Keating held numerous staff appointments until February 2011 when he was promoted to Major General and appointed Chief of Army. In December 2012 he was appointed Vice Chief of the Defence Force, then Chief of the Defence Force in January 2014.

General Keating has a Master's degree in Strategic Studies from the United States Army War College (graduated in June 2004). In 2008 he was made a Member of the New Zealand Order of Merit (2008).

MASTERCLASSES

Tuesday Masterclass 1 – Capability through Collaboration Success Factors in Building Science and Technology.

Dr Mark Hodge, Defence Materials Technology Centre, Melbourne

The requirements of defence industry from a demanding customer are rightly exacting, and increasingly underpinned by cutting edge, cross-sectoral technology. Collaboration between the Defence customer and the research and industrial sectors can provide a capability multiplier. This workshop will explore and analyse success factors and a range of risks and opportunities.

Tuesday Masterclass 2 – Engaging Effectively with NZDF.

Ms Debbie Howarth, NZDF, Director, Industry Engagement
Richard Harrison, NZTE, Industry Procurement Specialist
Caleb Johnstone, MBIE, Programme Director, Government Procurement

Defence is a large and complex customer to engage with. Understanding the drivers, how to engage effectively and the rules under which Defence operates, are key to success.

This workshop will provide insights, tools to upskill and guidance on increasing the likelihood of success when engaging with Defence.

Wednesday Masterclass 3 – Through, By and With: A collaborative approach to enhancing New Zealand's Defence Industry.

Mr Ian Irving, Chief Executive, Northrop Grumman Australia

Wednesday Masterclass 4 – The Pilot Training Capability: Defence Working Successfully with Local and International Industry.

Mr Frank Dyer Project Director, Ministry of Defence

SPEED DATING

On the morning of Tuesday 17th November, we are offering participants in our Forum the opportunity to meet with the Ministry of Defence, New Zealand Defence force and selected Prime Contractors to discuss topics of your choice. We thank them for their willingness to be part of this initiative.

Please complete the online link to our speed dating form or download a copy and return it to sue@spconferences.co.nz. We will match your topic with the most appropriate official available to discuss this topic with you. You will be emailed with appointment details and the official you will be meeting, approximately one week prior to the Forum. Speed dating sessions will run for 20 minutes. Please ensure you are in Wellington by 8.30am to be able to make your allocated appointment time. You will only be allocated one appointment time per company.

What we can do:

We believe that war profiteers must be confronted, and their activities stopped or impeded. One year, we deployed a 'clown army' that blockaded the entrances to Te Papa, where the conference was being held. This action stopped day one of the conference and caused Te Papa to cancel further bookings for the conference.

This year we would like to organise activities to get in the way of those who want to make a profit from killing and destruction. For that, we will need lots of people. The conference is headed to a bigger venue this year - one owned by the Wellington City Council. We don't think there should be weapons conferences anywhere in the world, and it is particularly shameful that it is happening in the nuclear-free capital of nuclear-free New Zealand with a Mayor who is the Executive Leader of the international Mayors for Peace.

Peace Action Wellington (PAW) likes to approach issues with a combination of humour and an uncompromising commitment to peace with justice and self-determination.

We are grassroots and community-based, and everyone with a passion for these issues is welcome to become involved. We work on a consensus basis and aim to value the input of all participants.

We are not aligned to any political party or other organisation. PAW is an independent organisation with individual membership, and it also functions as a united front for groups opposed to unjust war.

We meet fortnightly on Wednesdays at 17 Tory Street at 6pm. Get in touch or just come along. We hope to see you then.

What you need to know about the

2015 Weapons Conference

17-18 November, TSB Arena, Wellington

What is the Weapons Conference:

Each year, Wellington is host to 200 of the world's largest weapons and arms manufacturers. Under the name 'the Defence Industry Conference' these companies come to town to meet and plan how to make money from war. The event has been going on annually for the past 18 years.

This year, the conference is being held at the TSB Arena on 17-18 November. The theme is Defence Security and Industry—Expanding our Horizons and Strengthening the ANZAC Relationship.

Chief sponsors include:

Lockheed Martin is the world's largest weapons manufacturer. It describes itself as a "global security and aerospace company ... principally engaged in the research, design, development, manufacture, integration, and sustainment of advanced technology systems, products, and services". It specialises in military aircraft, missiles and munitions and operates nuclear weapons systems in the US and the UK. Lockheed Martin make Trident D-5 nuclear missiles.

Babcock (NZ) have a partnering relationship with the NZ Navy to manage the Devonport Dockyard and maintain the NZ navy fleet. Overseas they are involved in the maintenance and development of nuclear-armed submarines for the British Navy, including managing Britain's nuclear submarine bases in Scotland, such as the Trident submarine base in Faslane. They also have contracts for weapon handling and launching contracts of various nuclear vessels from other countries, for example South Korea.

CAE has contracts with the NZDF to provide "life-support and maintenance service" for helicopters purchased by the NZDF from Kaman Corporation. Overseas CAE has the contract to train operators for the USAF Predator and Reaper drones. They also have the contract for maintenance and operation of F35s in Canada (F35s are described as one of the most lethal nuclear weapon-capable planes currently available.)

GHD (formerly Gutteridge, Haskins & Davey) is a company "dedicated to understanding and helping our clients achieve their goals in the global markets of water, energy and resources, environment, property and building; and transportation." In Australia they have won contracts to clean-up nuclear testing sites; a quick online search links them with the unsafe disposal of nuclear waste in Maralinga, the atomic bomb test site in Australia.

Thales helps "governments, security agencies and critical industries protect citizens and places, sensitive data and assets. ...areas of strengths include data encryption and cyber-security, border protection and customs controls, CIN and major public event security." NZ Greens have pointed it out as a company "intimately involved in the manufacture of cluster bombs and nuclear weapons

SafeAir is a wholly owned subsidiary of Air NZ and works with Kaman and Lockheed Martin. They refurbished Indonesian war planes at the time of Indonesia's occupation of East Timor. They have been involved in a range of military contracts in the past for assorted air forces, primarily those of NZ and Australia, and have done some work for the Israeli air force.

Weapons of war & military services:

War making isn't just about weapons. The private military services industry has grown substantially over the past two decades. One particularly high profile example was the Blackwater mercenaries who were sent into the Iraq war. Arms production was concentrated and specialised during the 1990s and included expansion into military services, as part of the move to privatise (or outsource) government services. Some NZDF jobs previously carried out by soldiers are now done by private contractors.

Many military service providers are providers of ordinary civilian services. To Holdings, the company that up until recently owned and ran our rail service provides support to the US Navy. Serco, the company that runs the new prison in Auckland, is involved in the management of nuclear weapons in the UK.

Stop the Weapons Conference!

We say 'No' to Wellington City - nuclear free capital of nuclear free New Zealand - hosting a weapons conference sponsored by Lockheed Martin, the world's largest nuclear weapons manufacturer.
