Vision

To enhance and maintain Tawa's pride and place by making sure the community:

- Is a safe and friendly place to live.
- Has pride in its surrounding environment.
- Utilises its proximity to Wellington to generate growth while at the same time not losing sight of its strong community spirit.
- Recognises the importance of youth for the future.
- Is proud of its history and heritage.

A Community Snapshot

The Tawa Community Board represents the communities of Tawa (the northernmost suburb of Wellington), Grenada North and the Takapu Valley, with a total of around 14,000 residents.

Tawa is located close to Wellington (approximately 15 minutes from central Wellington by both motorway or commuter train), making it an attractive option for families and the elderly looking for good facilities (schools, proximity to health care, etc), affordable housing and a strong community spirit.

"When I think about Tawa I think about a small community that isn't too small that everybody knows everybody, but small enough that everyone has a connection with someone. There's not an exclusive feel to Tawa. It's such a good place to grow up in." - Kieren Gera, Tawa College head girl 2010

Background to Tawa

The Borough of Tawa takes its name from the native Tawa tree (Beilschmiedia tawa) that once covered the area. The name Tawa Flat was first used in 1854 in the Wellington Provincial Gazette. In the 1941 local body elections Tawa Flat was part of Makara county which also included Porirua and Titahi Bay. In 1953 Tawa Flat and Linden became an independent borough. After rapid housing expansion in the 1950s outside the Tawa Flat area, the name was changed (on 23 February 1959) to the Borough of Tawa. The Tawa Borough Council negotiated for its own water and sewage system to accommodate its expansion into Redwood and Linden. On 3 October 1988 the Local Government Commission decreed that the Borough of Tawa would be amalgamated with Wellington City. In 1989 the Tawa Community Board was set up to replace the Borough Council.

From a commercial perspective, Tawa has strengths. It has a reasonable proportion of flat land, and industrial and business zoned land, and its geography gives it strong potential as a commercial hub.

There are also challenges to manage in looking to Tawa's future. While the Tawa Community Board has little influence over the impact of the macro-economy (recession, etc) or Central Government policy settings, there are areas within its area of influence that could support greater growth and sustainability within the community. These areas of influence include:

- Support for the development of the retail area/heart of the Tawa community
- Advocacy for investment in community infrastructure
- Promotion of the Tawa brand so that it is better known and understood outside the community.

A Plan for Tawa

Scope of this Plan

This document represents the priorities for the period 2010–2013 and is the Tawa Community Board’s second Community Action Plan. The Board, elected in the Local Body Elections 2010, is looking to develop and implement a Community Action Plan to support its role in understanding and meeting the community’s needs.

The Wellington City Council’s website states the following about the purpose of the Tawa Community Board: “This elected community board represents the interests of the Tawa Community. The board reflects the unique history and requirements of the area and helps Wellington City Council to understand and meet the community’s needs.”

The specific roles and responsibilities of the Tawa Community Board are as follows:
