Wellington Timebank

31,500+ hours of exchanges

11,200+ exchanges

839+ members

103+ organisational members

46+ suburbs

across five Wellington wards: central, northern, eastern, western and southern

Current number of offers or requests for help:

91 offers and 67 requests

Year to date: 154 exchanges of help and 806 hours of contribution to each other

Demographics:

Timebankers are from diverse backgrounds

Members range from 9 to 89 years old and come from a wide range of neurodiversity, abilities, ethnicities, beliefs, genders and identities.

Members range in economic circumstances and occupations:

They are waged, either parttime/fulltime workers across a range of occupations: eg trades, civil servants, hospitality, retail, teachers, charity, NGOs, corporate
Or they are unwaged such as: students (primary, intermediate and tertiary), pensioners, stay at home parents, and those receiving job seeker support, disability allowances, and youth payments.

People who wouldn't otherwise, meet through the timebank and exchange not only skills but culture, gaining a sense of belonging and meaningful contribution to each other's lives.

Timebanking VALUES

- BELONGING - social inclusion combats loneliness, isolation and provides a sense of place. We have started monthly meals at Everybody Eats The kaupapa of this charity means that everyone is welcome and can sit together. This fits perfectly with the values of Timebanking.
- ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITIES - access to skills & services ordinarily out of reach

- WELLBEING – everyone has something to offer, has worth and can contribute
- COMMUNITY RESILIENCE – true resilience comes from knowing that others are there for you and that help is at hand from many people. This is a community organisation where anyone can belong and access networks of help.

The impact of Timebanking in terms of social inclusion and addressing economic inequality can be seen in recent examples:

Timebanking Stories:

Timebanker GRACE is in her late 80s but every month gives time by ringing around other older folk to let them know the details of the monthly coffee group. She also helps prepare morning tea on the day, showing manaakitanga by welcoming people. Having direct contact each month can help ease the awkwardness for some people and gives a sense of welcome. GRACE joined the timebank and requested help with getting to appointments. NATALIA recently lost her job and is helping GRACE each week with a ride to the supermarket. NATALIA found she felt more isolated since being between paid jobs and reported finding the weekly social contact helpful.

Timebanker BILL has been giving time to Newtown Tool Library for many years. He is a registered tradesperson and helps them by conducting safety testing on the equipment. BILL also has extensive experience giving time and teaching more than a hundred people how to drive. BILL recently listed a request for help moving building material as he insulates the walls of his home. ALIE has offered to help BILL. He is also keen to help learn how to reline a house with insulation as he and his partner have their first child on the way.

BILL is in the process of connecting to give help to FATIMA who wants help learning to drive but currently has no access to a car nor means to pay for lessons.

FATIMA is an active contributor, through the timebank she has offered to help cook food for events, mind other children, weeded and planted veggies at city housing community garden. With her 'time credits' she has been able to get help with rides to appointments, borrow equipment to fix things in her home and most impactfully for her family get help with maths tutoring for her son who like many children either fell behind or ended up with big gaps in their learning due to covid lockdowns and missed days and lessons over the last three years. This tutoring has led to not only catching up with missed knowledge but increased engagement with other learning at school.

BILL also has connected with MARI another timebanker through our coordinator. While MARI hasn't been active on the timebank for many years she wants to give time by setting up a new tool library. MARI recalled the most impactful help she received was from several years ago when she was faced with an unexpected and stressful move from her temporary housing. She was overwhelmed by the size of the task, as well as having some physical limitations. About 15 timebankers turned up on the day of the move with a van and car and shifted MARI quickly and with warmth. She still carries the sense of wellbeing and community support with her today.
